U.S. PACIFIC COAST GASOLINE CHEAPEST YET SEEN

Governor R. Bruce And Miss Mackenzie Fly Across Gulf

"Delightful" Said His Honor on Arrival at Vancouver From Victoria in 45 Minutes

Chatelaine at Government House Flies First Time and Is Keen For Aviation

Lieutenant-Governor Randolph
R. Bruce and Miss Margaret Mackenzie to-day flew by seaplane to Vancouver as the guests of Norman A. Yarrow, president of the Yarrow Aircraft Corporation, in the 3,000-horsepower Stinson Detroit recently delivered here by the builders.

Pilot G. S. (Barney) Jones-Evans was at the controls when the Governor's party left the landing base of the Alaska Washington Airways of B.C. in the Inner Harbor at 10:50 o'clock this morning.

Those making the trip besides the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie were Norman A. Yarrow, B. D. Robinson, and Major A.
Selden Humphries, A.D.C. to His Honor.

MAYOR DECLINES
"You had better come along, Mr.
Mayor," shouted the Governor to Mayor Anson, who, with Mrs. Anson, were at the harbor airport to witness the departure at the personal invitation of Mr. Yarrow.

The Mayor looked at the full cabin and smilingly nodded his decision to decline.

"My wife is half way to Vancouver already," shot back the city's chief executive.

Mrs. Anson has not been up in the air, although she thinks flying is wonderful.

"Goodbye" was the last audible remark of Governor Bruce as the propeller roared away and the big seaplane taxied out of the harbor.

GOVERNOR PLEASED
His next public utterance was forty-five minutes later, when the Detroit landed at the Broughton Street seaplane base on False Creek at Vancouver.

1,500 AFGHANS REPULSED AT INDIAN BORDER

British Machine Gunners and Friendly Tribesmen Win
Northern Skirmish

Peshawar, India, July 10.—British machine gunners, aided by friendly tribesmen, yesterday repulsed 1,500 hostile Afghan tribesmen and shelled a field gun they had used in their attack.

Hostile tribesmen have become decided more active in their operations about the Northwest Frontier Province border and it was reported here that a large force had formed with the intention of attacking friendly native sections.

British airmen flew over their camps
Sunday and dropped bombs.

France Pauses In Her Navy Building Plans

Briand Tells Parliament There Is No Cause For Great Alarm About Relations With Italy

Canadian Press
Paris, July 10.—According to reports
Briand to-day disclosed the French Government had informed Premier Mussolini of Italy no more ships would be put on the stocks, under the French building programme, before December.

The action was taken for the purpose of letting Italy know France had provided plenty of time for renewal of discussion of a disarmament treaty under the status that existed during the recent London Conference.

ADDRESSES DEPUTIES
The Foreign Minister made his announcement during a statement before the Foreign Relations Committee of the Chamber of Deputies to-day concerning the relations between France and Italy, during the course of which he assured the deputies there was no reason for undue concern.

Central Ontario
Suffers Lash Of Heavy Storm

Toronto, July 10.—A terrific wind-storm struck Central Ontario, last night, causing widespread damage.
The storm centred about Oshawa, where trees were uprooted in every section of the city. One crashed through the roof of a factory, while another fell across hydro wires and threw a portion of the city into darkness and crippled trolley car service.

BORROWINGS OF BROKERS SHRINK

New York, July 10.—Total borrowings by members of the New York Stock Exchange against stock collaterals on July 1 amounted to 5.83 per cent of the market value of all shares listed on that date, a decrease of five per cent, as compared with 6.83 per cent
July 2, July 1 last year the ratio was 9.15 per cent.

AUSTRALIANS DISCUSSING NEW TARIFF RATES

Sydney Herald Describes Increases Government Proposes as Gamblers' Budget

Opposition Leader Calls For Cut in Expenditures; Shortage in Revenue

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuter's Canberra, Australia, July 10.—Australia at back to-day and surveyed the sweeping budget brought down yesterday in the House of Representatives and saw in it the paradox of a free trade Labor Government involving the aid of protection in a desperate effort to ameliorate the present unfavorable financial condition of the country.

Heavy increases in the customs tariff, introduction of a sales tax patterned after the Canadian model, and extension of the scope of income tax—these are the main trends of the budget.

The papers throughout the country are printing columns of comment. The Sydney Herald, Sydney, N.S.W., calls the government's financial statement a "gamblers' budget." Hon. J. G.
Latham, leader of the Nationalist opposition, protests against there being no reduction in governmental expenditure, and Hon. Earle Page, Country Party leader and former Treasurer of the Commonwealth, declares the budget will only aggravate the present depression.

HEAT WAVE ON PLAINS BREAKS AS RAIN COMES

Thunderstorms Predicted;
Farmers Hope For Moisture
For Grain

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 10.—The heat wave which had scorched the prairies for forty-eight hours was rising a little to-day before winds which brought a promise of rain before nightfall.

Thunderstorms were forecast generally for Alberta, Manitoba and the western trip of the Lake Superior area as their monometers which in many places had ranged well above the ninety-degree mark began to move downward slowly.
The forecast for Saskatchewan was "fair and warm."

Thirsty grainland, scorched by the merciless sun, would reap great benefits from rain at present. Damage to crops in Alberta, especially in the southern reaches of the province, is said to be great owing to lack of rain.
Other parts of the plains, which also lacked adequate subsoil moisture from last year, such as southwestern Saskatchewan, are believed hard hit as a result of the blistering heat.

Parts of southeastern Saskatchewan received a fair fall of rain during the last twenty-four hours.

Pierson, in southwestern Manitoba, reported about one-eighth inch of rain.

TO-DAY'S BASEBALL

Philadelphia, July 10.—Chuck Klein

League home run leadership to-day by hitting his twenty-fifth, struck home in the eighth.

The home team came off Pete Donohue in the sixth inning of the Philadelphia-New York game with two on base. It put him one ahead of Hack Wilson of Chicago and Wally Bever of Boston.

Hopes to Start in Few Days on Tacoma-Tokio Plane Flight

LIEUT. HAROLD BROMLEY

If his plans are successful, Lieut.
Harold Bromley, former Victorian, will leave Tacoma within a week in an effort to make a non-stop plane flight to Tokio. He is expected to arrive in Tacoma aboard his new plane to-morrow or Saturday from Los Angeles and hop off after mechanical check-ups of the machine at the Sound City. Three planes built for Bromley's flight in successive periods during the last year were wrecked in a take-off and tests.

figures for the five boroughs, published place as the second city in the world

don. The final count gives this city
6,958,792, as compared with 7,742,212,

144 GERMAN
MINERS DIE
IN DISASTER

Explosion in Wenceslaus
Mine Takes Highest Toll
For Years

Canadian Press
Neurode, Germany, July 10.—
At least 144 persons lost their lives yesterday in an explosion in the Wenceslaus mine. Eighty-one bodies have been recovered, most of them burned badly. No hope is held for those remaining in the shaft.

Of 193 miners in the shaft at the time of the explosion, only forty-nine escaped and they were badly injured.
The explosion in the mine occurred when a large gas pocket was suddenly tapped during blasting last yesterday. The fumes spread through the shafts so quickly there was little chance for anyone to escape.

RESCUES INJURED
Rescue work proved increasingly hazardous and finally was abandoned at about midnight after a number of the crew, fitted with gas masks, had been overcome or injured.

It was possible to save only forty-nine persons of the 193 in the mine before breaking off the rescue work.
All of these, although badly burned,
are expected to recover.

The disaster took both the men and officials off their guard in view of the periodical gas surveys having been completed only last Sunday. It was thought the mine was safer than ever against the menace.

Rescuers found the dead miners still with tools in their hands, wagon men beside their wagons dead, and the electricity pilot lifeless at his controls.
WORST IN YEARS

It was by far the greatest mine disaster Germany has known in years.
In 1922, 117 died in the Bochum mine disaster, and in 1925 the death toll in the Dortmund mine reached 135.

The Wenceslaus Mine took seven lives. That explosion earned the shaft a reputation as "unlucky" among the miners of Silesia.

VICTORY FOR MACDONALD IS PREDICTED Expected Ministry Will Be Upheld on Test in British Commons Next Week

Canadian Press
London, July 10.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, victor by three votes in a House of Commons fight yesterday which nearly brought his resignation and precipitated a general election, was believed today to be more safely entrenched against the next attack upon his regime. This will come, probably next week, when a motion of censure presented by St. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, is up for a vote.

There are predictions of a split in the Liberal following as a consequence of the course of the leader, Rt. Hon.
David Lloyd George, in so nearly forcing an election and ministerial defeat which he had declared he did not

Defending Champion and Whiffy Cox Each Shoot 71's in Golf Tournament

Jones Goes Out in 34 and Back in 37; Johnny Farrell Makes Fine Recovery

Interlachen Club, Minneapolis, July 10.—Bobby Jones, the defending champion, was tied for the lead in the first round of the United States open golf tournament to-day by the Brooklyn sharpshooter Winfred "Whiffy" Cox. Each had the same score of 34-37-71; one under par, and a one-stroke lead for the time being over the rest of the field.

Johnny Farrell, U.S. open champion in 1928, made one of the most dramatic comebacks of the day, totaling a comfortable 74. He took what appeared to be a disastrous eight on the first par four hole, but made up for the lapse with four birdies on the first nine for a par 36. He slumped on two holes coming home, but got away with a 38, and was only three strokes away from Jones and Cox.

Farrell played the final three holes in even par, although he missed a birdie on the final green by an inch.

JONES'S CARD FOLLOWS
Par out 4 4 3 3 4 4 4 5—36
Jones out 4 4 3 3 4 4 4 4—34
Par in 4 5 5 4 4 4 3 4—37-71
Jones in 5 5 3 4 4 3 4 3—71

Jones, playing magnificently except for inability to get down two fairway putts, made par look ridiculously easy as he battled his way through a gallery of 5,000 spectators and in heat that sent the thermometer soaring over the 100 mark in the sun.

HAS ONE-STROKE LEAD
Horton Smith's 72 put him in temporary second place with Harry Cooper of Chicago and George Smith, another Chicago professional.

Although dripping from perspiration, Jones seemed to play better as the heat became more intense. The champion never looked better off the tee or through the looking glass.

lano and Gene Gabbalt.

The party had been fishing at Port

Gabbalt was piloting the plane,
and was the only one to escape.

STRAY BULLET KILLS YOUNG LOCAL OFFICER

Lieut. Anthony J. L. Farrar Accidentally Shot at Camp

Fine Athlete; Held Albert

Struck in the head by a stray bullet while in charge of the targets during firing practice at Camp Hughes, Manitoba, death came with tragic suddenness yesterday afternoon to Lieut. Anthony J.
Farrar of Winnipeg, son of Mrs.
Denton Holmes of Victoria and one of this city's most promising young athletes and rugby players.

According to the dispatch received from Camp Hughes, no inquest will be held into the fatality which was purely accidental. Lieut.
Farrar being in charge of the targets and within the range of fire when struck. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Jean Gil-her husband was on his military duties; his mother, his stepfather, sister, Mrs. W. C. Merton, all of

LT.-COM. GRIEVE, COMPANION OF HAWKER WHEN LOST IN ATLANTIC, MAY SETTLE HERE

Navigator of Sopwith Plane on Pioneer Atlantic Flight

"It Was a Miracle," He Said in Telling of Dramatic Rescue By Danish Steamer

Lieut.-Commander K. Mackenzie Grieve, R.N., navigator who hopped off with Harry Hawker in a Sopwith open biplane from St. Johns, Newfoundland, on the evening of May 18, 1919, in a pioneer attempt to fly across the Atlantic, is a distinguished visitor in the city today. Commander Grieve, with Hawker, was picked up at sea by the Danish freighter Mary after they had been given up by the world as lost.

Commander Grieve arrived in Victoria a week ago with Mrs. Grieve and their daughter from England and have since made a tour of Vancouver Island, visiting Campbell River, Cameron Lake and Spuzzan Lake.

MAY SETTLE HERE
The pioneer aerial navigator told a representative of The Times at the Douglas Hotel this morning that he is in Canada on this occasion with the intention of settling on Vancouver Island and Norfolk, Va., for the forever and lake country in the vicinity of Spuzzan Lake.

Commander Grieve to-day modestly related some of his experiences in that epoch-making flight which pioneered transatlantic aviation.

RESCUE A MIRACLE
"It was nothing short of a miracle," he said, in explaining how Hawker and himself were picked up the morning after they had hopped off from St.
Johns by the little steamer Mary without wireless and bound from New Orleans and Norfolk, Va., for Australia
and Spuzzan Lake.

AUTO FUEL MAY SELL FOR TAX IN CALIFORNIA

At Fresno Price Is Five Cents a Gallon; Tacoma
Drivers Buy Supplies at 6½ Cents; Declared Dealers' War in Pacific Coast States Is Fight to a Finish.

The price reached the five-cent level in Fresno, Cal., yesterday. One large distributing company in Tacoma, which had been selling at seven and a half cents retail, shaded that quotation by one cent a gallon to-day. Another firm announced a wholesale price of four and a half cents in Tacoma.
The prices were the lowest in coast history.

The lowest retail price in Los Angeles was eight and a half cents, including the three cent tax. Portland retail prices ranged from ten and thirteen and a half cents, including a four-cent tax. Quotations in San Francisco ranged from ten to fourteen cents, including tax.

The war was declared to be a fight to a finish.

STORAGE INCREASES Increased storage supplies on the one hand and the scramble of distributors and major companies for quantity sales, were held responsible.
Independent dealers in San Francisco have asked Governor Young to aid in having gasoline distributors classified as public utilities, operating under regulation by the state railroad commission.

Should the retail price fall to three cents as predicted, producers and distributors would receive nothing for their product, at the state tax than would absorb the entire retail price.

SEATTLE PRICES
Seattle, July 10.—Gasoline prices hit a new low for Seattle to-day when cards at some stations flashed to passenger motorists a quotation of 9½ cent a gallon. Most dealers, however, held to 11 cents. The tax is three cents.

The equivalent of five cents a gallon in the United States is six cents a gallon in Victoria. Three cents a gallon in the United States would be 3.6 cents a gallon in Victoria.

DOYLE LIBRARY TO U.S.
New York, July 10.—The criminological library of the late Sir Arthur possession of Dr. A. S. Rosenbach, New York book collector, who bought it at

WOMAN STATED DEAD RETURNS TO MILL JOB

Her Supposed Demise Caused General Strike in Seville, Spain

Seville, Spain, July 10.—Antonia Vargas, a worker in a local oil factory, who threw Seville into a general strike June 23 when police and workers struck was dead, had the city by the ears again to-day when she suddenly returned to her job hale and hearty.

Reappearing at her customary position, she told fellow workers they did not know what they were talking about when they charged the police with having killed her during a labor demonstration. She chided the police for reporting her as having died from natural causes.

She had merely gone off on a little informal vacation, and that was all there was to her "demise," she said.

Her presence in the flesh was sufficiently convincing to the police to release 100 men held in connection with the strike riots, but created a new problem.

A woman died, the record of June 23 shows, and was buried. The police must start all over again to determine her identity.

GAS FOR THREE CITIES
Regina, July 10.—A similar proposal to that which has already been presented to Saskatoon and Moose Jaw to supply natural gas from the Turner Valley oilfields in Alberta, involving a pipeline expenditure of $17,000,000, was outlined by C. J. Torath of the Deminion Gas and Electric Company Limited to the Regina City Council yesterday evening.

The party had been fishing at Port
Arkansas, across the bay from here.
A wing of the plane was seen to give way and the craft crashed to the ground shortly afterwards, witnesses said.

Gabbalt was piloting the plane,
and was the only one to escape.

FIRST MEETS ON MAINLAND SHOW DECLINE IN BETS

Totals Wagered at Brighthouse and Lansdowne Are Down 15 Per Cent From 1929

Summer Meet at Agua Caliente and Business Depression Given as Reason

Mainland race followers have wagered nearly 15 per cent less through the mutuels for the first two weeks of 1930 than they did in the corresponding period last year, according to figures just released by the Department of Finance, which shows this season's total to be $1,111,513 as compared with $1,311,037 in 1929. These figures cover the meet at Brighthouse Park, Lulu Island, June 14 to 21, and the week at Lansdowne Park, June 28 to July 5.

Brighthouse saw the most drastic decline with a total of $480,645, as compared to $632,393 last year. Lansdowne customers wagered only slightly less than in 1929, the figures being $630,863, as compared with $678,774.

The provincial tax levied on these figures shows a corresponding decrease. The net tax at Brighthouse was $23,431.46 instead of the $30,822.83 levied in 1929, while the Lansdowne was $30,784.82, compared with $33,000.25 last year. The total net tax for the two meets stood at $54,186.28, compared with $63,823.11.

On only three days did the mutuels receive more than $100,000 in wagers the peak on Dominion Day realizing $125,795. Several reasons are advanced for the decline which is the most marked in years. In the first place the summer meet, which started last week at Agua Caliente, has attracted many of the best horses on the Coast, and has also diverted many of the professionals who have previously followed the ponies into B.C. Unsettled weather and the general business depression have also played a part in the totals.

PAPERS ASK WHAT VICEROY'S SPEECH MEANS

London Writers Inquire If Simon Report on India to Be Shelved

London, July 10.—Announcement that the forthcoming round table conference on India will meet "with liberty unimpeded" by the Simon report was one of the chief features of a speech made by Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, in Simla yesterday.

In the speech, delivered before both Houses of the Indian Legislature and simultaneously made public in London, the Viceroy also asserted the British Government's declaration of November last, that Dominion status was a natural completion of India's constitutional growth, "still stands."

Newspapers in London commented on the "remarkable nature" of the speech. The Evening Standard, referring to "Lord Irwin's strange words," asked if the Simon report was to be shelved.

The Star said the Viceroy had not been asked to make any statement on the subject of the Simon report, nor revealed what place it would have in the round-table discussion in London.

The Evening News said the Viceroy's announcement regarding the place of the Simon report in the conference was a "greatly assisted by but with the liberty unimpeded" of the Simon Statutory Commission.

The Viceroy's statement was a surprise to the Indian Legislature that after careful consideration His Majesty's Government had decided the round table conference on Indian constitutional questions would enjoy full freedom of action. He said the conference would be free to approach its task "greatly assisted by but with the liberty unimpeded" of the Simon Statutory Commission.

PIONEER OF ALASKA HERE

C. Newman of Ensenada and San Diego Spends Short Time in Victoria

On one of his combined business and holiday trips which he takes every year to some part of Canada or the United States, Charles E. Newman, of San Diego, was registered this week at the Empress Hotel. He came up the coast by boat, and after visiting in Vancouver and the interior he will return the same way. Mr. Newman is well-known in Victoria, and his time here was occupied in looking up old friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Newman was well-known in Alaska and the Yukon in the heyday of the gold rush there, living for many years at White Horse, Dawson, Nome and St. Michael. He was also one of the first settlers in Prince Rupert.

Mr. Newman now owns a 500-acre ranch at Ensenada, Mexico, about seventy miles south of San Diego. His partner looks after the ranch, however, and Mr. Newman lives most of the time, when he is not traveling, in San Diego or Los Angeles, Ensenada, he says, is fast becoming a pleasure resort, and wealthy California people are buying up the property along the wonderful beaches for week-end homes. A large hotel is going up there and other attractions, so that the place will rival Agua Caliente, the other famous Mexican resort.

During his visit in Victoria Mr. Newman called on Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, and went to Colonel J. H. McMullen, commissioner of provincial police, who, however, is in Europe. He inquired for many old-timers, and also asked for Monte Craig, pioneer Alaska and Prince Rupert business man, who is now making his home in Victoria.

The chairman of the meeting was Thomas Howell, president of the Manitoba Liberal Association. In addition to the Prime Minister there were seated on the platform Senator J. H. King, A. M. Manson, M.P.P., former attorney-general of British Columbia, and H. G. Perry, Liberal candidate in the constituency of Carleton Place.

FIFTH B.C. MEETING

Premier King, in opening his speech, said it was the fifth meeting he had addressed in British Columbia, and his only regret was that he could not stay longer. His British Columbia meetings had been most pleasant, and he would carry away with him happy memories of his stay in the Pacific Coast province.

MAYOR'S TOUR

"I hear Hon. R. J. Manion is coming here to-morrow night," said Mr. King. "If you want to hear what a real Tory is like, listen to him." Mr. King added that sometimes the man who had gone back on former beliefs and principles became the most strenuous advocate of the new principles which he embraced. "Dr. Manion was for many years a Liberal," said Mr. King, who added that since Dr. Manion had become a Conservative he seemed to think it necessary to outdo his associates in the Conservative party. You will hear from him plenty of denunciations and probably a good deal in the line of personal abuse of me," Mr. King said, and he advised his listeners to weigh Dr. Manion's words and consider the extent to which he discarded the great issues of the campaign.

Mr. King asked his audience not to let small matters obscure the great

issues of the campaign. The first great issue was the record of the Government.

The government of Canada was a great business, he said. If the government's record was a good one the election should consider very gravely whether to replace it with a new and untried administration. If the record was a bad one, then, said Mr. King, "by all means exercise your right to make a change in July."

NEW TARIFF

He proceeded with the second great issue—the budget, mentioning the recent changes made in the United States tariff. "We have felt we would like to give them a little of their own treatment," Mr. King said. But the government had gone farther. It had decided that, under the circumstances, Canada should buy from Great Britain many of those things which formerly had come from the United States. This was the effect of changes in the British preference, and the beneficial effect of the policy was well illustrated, Mr. King said, in the reduction of tea. In a comparatively short time after the tariff on tea had been reduced the price of tea in Canada had gone down from ten to fifteen cents a pound.

EMPIRE CONFERENCE

The third great issue, Canada's representation at the Imperial Conference, was next dealt with by the Prime Minister. He told his audience all countries were making special effort to sell their grain in England. The Argentine Republic, for instance, had been trying to get into the British market. This was where the British preference came in.

The Conservatives are complaining we have stolen their clothes, that we have adopted their policies," said Mr. King. It was the case, then, the Conservatives should be supporting him, he said. But it was not the case. The British preference was a Liberal policy and the Conservatives had never extended preferences to Great Britain. "I would like Dr. Manion or anyone else to tell you when the Conservatives have ever given a preference to Great Britain," Mr. King remarked.

CANADA'S TRADE

Canada must export the commodities she produced, said Mr. King. In order to sell, she must buy. It was desirable and important that she should trade with Great Britain. This was where representations at the Imperial Conference came in.

"You have got to ask yourself if, in view of the ridicule Dr. Manion and other Conservatives are casting on the budget, they are the people to send over to represent Canada at the Imperial Conference," said Mr. King. The budget, he declared, had met with the support of all parties in Great Britain. Now what the government needed was to get the voice of the people of Canada behind the budget. And if Canada endorsed the budget, said Mr. King, he felt the position of the Dominion in the markets of Great Britain would be assured.

The record of the government was then reviewed by the Prime Minister. "Unemployment was everywhere when we came into office," he said. The Conservatives were boasting of what they had done for the unemployed years ago. The reason they had found it necessary to do so much was that there was a great deal of unemployment.

TAXATION REDUCED

The Conservatives had come out of office leaving behind a legacy of debt, Mr. King said. The country had been headed for bankruptcy. All this had been changed and deficits had been turned into surpluses, taxation had been reduced and the debt was being cut down.

With reference to the proposed outlet from the Peace River district to the Pacific, Mr. King said he had given to the undertaking work would be started on that railway line within a year. This undertaking, he said, had been given in the House of Commons a couple of months ago.

CANADA AND AUSTRALIA

Conditions in Canada and those in Australia, as indicated by the Australian budget, were contrasted by Premier King. He said, he had been handed a news dispatch on the train, which dealt with the Australian budget. The Commonwealth government had decided to make drastic increases in taxation in an endeavor to recover financial losses. It was faced with a deficit of approximately $70,000,000," said Mr. King.

Australia was putting on a sales tax just when Canada was taking one off, he said. Australia was finding it necessary to increase taxation, while Canada was reducing hers by millions.

A. M. Manson, M.P.P., who spoke before Premier King, said that probably there had been no election since Confederation in which the issues between the parties were so well defined. He paid a tribute to Mr. Perry, the candidate.

Mr. Perry followed. He expressed appreciation of the reception which had been given to the Prime Minister, and declared there was a feeling throughout the constituency that Carleton would be returned to the Liberal fold on election day.

"Use Palmolive Soap to avoid an irritated unattractive skin"

urges MADAME B. SCHAANNING

Celebrated Copenhagen beauty specialist

"Your face needs soap and water, but ordinary soaps sometimes do more harm than good. Modern beauty science lays particular stress on vegetable oils. These cosmetic oils—such as you get in Palmolive Soap—are fresh, healing, soothing; they bring up the under-surface-color and keep the skin free of irritation."

B. Schaanning
VIMMELSKAPET 42, STUEN, COPENHAGEN.

Olive oil, as you use it in Palmolive Soap, is the ideal means of freeing the skin of dirt, dust and make-up.

"EVERY woman dreads that look of middle age which comes with a coarse, rough-textured skin," according to the renowned Madame Schaanning, of Copenhagen. "Yet no woman need have such a skin, for the right kind of daily care keeps your skin young, fresh and lovely! And by the right kind of care I simply mean cleansing with Palmolive Soap and water."

Madame Schaanning has the distinction of caring for many of the loveliest women of Denmark... where beauty requires special protection from harsh weather conditions. She is insistent on the use of one soap and one soap only, because she has seen the harmful effect of ordinary cleansing agents.

Beware of pimples and skin irritation

"Pimples and other similar outbreaks on the surface of the skin," warns Madame Schaanning, "too often are encouraged because care is not taken to use the right kind of soap. That is why I lay so much stress on the use of Palmolive."

Palmolive is a pure vegetable oil soap. Its color comes from the oils of palm and olives, famous since the days of Cleopatra as the finest of natural beautifiers. Its naturally fresh odor makes unnecessary the addition of heavy perfumes.

Here is the simple treatment advised not only by Madame Schaanning but also by more than 23,720 other beauty specialists in every great city of Europe and America: massage a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water gently into the pores; rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Now—and not before—your face is ready for make-up.

See your beauty expert for special beauty treatments. And use Palmolive regularly for the bath as well as the face. Its fresh fragrant lather will do for your skin what ordinary soaps cannot do... and you will avoid the danger of an irritated skin.

Premier King Makes Waterway Plan Clear

Federal Government Fully Cooperates With Provinces in St. Lawrence Proposals: Reply Issued to Ontario Premier's Recent Speech

By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Representative

Kamloops, B.C., July 10.—"His speech is merely a repetition of his press statement of June 30," said Premier King here yesterday evening in a brief statement issued in reply to the Kitchener, Ont., speech of Premier O. Howard Ferguson, of Ontario on the St. Lawrence waterways.

The text of the statement follows: "I have seen to-day the Canadian Press report of Premier Ferguson's speech at Kitchener. On July 3 I observed Mr. Ferguson devoted the greater part of his time to assailing the Dominion Government on its position as to development of water power in navigable streams and heretofore announced his intention to stand on guard in defense of provincial rights against a wholly mythical attack. His speech is merely a repetition of his press statement of June 30 and requires no further comment. The public will need no assistance in judging the policy of the Canadian Government from the record of its action and the correspondence as already made public."

ON FAIR BASIS
"That record makes clear beyond doubt that the Dominion Government has right along made an earnest effort to reach a solution of the question on a fair and enduring basis. First instead of going into the power business itself, the Dominion has indicated it would be prepared to agree that a province or provincial agency should secure and utilize the power whether the development be made by the province or by the Dominion. Second, the Dominion has set forth an eminently clear, fair and equitable basis for facilitating and utilizing of power by the province."

NAVIGATION REQUIREMENT
"In the first case, where the province desires to undertake power developments in navigable waters its right to do so will be recognized conditionally on the provision of the necessary navigation requirements. This proposal has been substantially accepted. In the second case, where the Dominion in the discharge of its power and duty of improving navigation, initiates a work which results in the development of power it has indicated its readiness to make the surplus waterpower available to the provincial agency on precisely the same basis as in the first case. Our offer in this regard is as follows: 'Should the Dominion Government at any time undertake or authorize the construction of any canal or other work for the improvement of navigation, it would be prepared to make available to an approved provincial agency the surplus waterpower developed by such work, on the operation of the locks and purposes of navigation on a basis equivalent to that which would govern if the provincial agency had itself undertaken the work as a power development scheme.'"

"Mr. Ferguson's alternative is as follows: Should the Dominion desire to undertake or authorize any work within its jurisdiction for the improvement of navigation which could conveniently be carried on contemporaneously with the development of power, it will so notify the province or provinces concerned. Whereupon such province or provinces will be prepared to undertake the development of such waterpower where necessary to facilitate the navigation plans of the Dominion."

"It is only necessary to place these two statements side by side to judge which is the more clear, the more consistent and the more reasonable."

ENGINEERING PROBLEMS
"Third, we have made every effort to co-operate in the solution of the engineering problems involved, particularly in the development of the St. Lawrence. Mr. Ferguson professes to fear that the Dominion Government is proposing to enter into negotiations with the United States on the St. Lawrence development without consulting the provinces and thus as he states, 'placing the actual power development anywhere in any section of the river, either on the American or the Canadian side.' So far is this from being the case that, as already stated, that the Dominion Government took the initiative in asking the Provincial Government to nominate engineers to co-operate with the Canadian section of the joint board in revising the plans for the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence. In other words, they were asked to report on precisely this question. Where should the actual power development be placed? They presented a unanimous report. That report, which was sent to Mr. Ferguson six months ago, together with the plans and estimates which have been since received from the engineers' conference draft is now before the public. They speak for themselves."

BUILDING OF CANAL
"The policy of the Dominion with respect to the construction of the canal itself remains, of course, what it has been from the outset of negotiations commenced some years ago, namely, the continuing of the necessary international negotiations just as soon as the domestic aspects of the problem have been sufficiently cleared up to permit of the work being proceeded with in a manner satisfactory alike to the province and the Dominion."

FERGUSON IS FOUND BEHIND SMOKE SCREEN

Crerar Deals With Ontario Premier's St. Lawrence Campaign; Elliott Speaks

By Frank Flaherty, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Simcoe, Ont., July 10.—Two Cabinet ministers yesterday scored Premier O. Howard Ferguson of Ontario for his attitude on the St. Lawrence waterway and power development scheme and his activities in the federal election campaign. They were Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, who here yesterday evening addressed a Liberal rally in support of W. J. Taylor, Liberal candidate in Norfolk-Simcoe. Mr. Crerar's address was broadcast throughout the province.

"The Premier of Ontario," said Mr. Elliott, "is willing to injure the St. Lawrence waterway if he can make political capital out of his refusal to accept the fairest possible terms for a settlement of the issue between the Dominion and the provinces."

WATERPOWER RIGHTS
"The federal government," Mr. Elliott said, "has never, as Mr. Ferguson stated, offered to recognize the legal right of the provinces to waterpower developed in navigable rivers. No government had the power to renounce rights conferred upon it by the constitution."

Four ministers have now commented on the declarations of the Premier of Ontario on the power question, the others being Premier King and Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance. The proposal the federal government submitted to the provinces, Mr. Elliott stated, was that, subject to the needs of navigation and the fulfillment of any necessary international obligations, the Dominion would recognize the right of the provinces to develop power. Should it prove convenient to develop power in conjunction with navigation facilities, the Dominion would place the power at the disposal of the provincial governments or any agencies designated by them. That, however, did not involve the relinquishment of any legal right to the power which the Dominion might have. But failing a decision on the legal questions involved, Mr. Elliott submitted it was the fairest proposal which could possibly be made. If it were made the basis of an agreement between the St. Lawrence power and navigation scheme could be carried through.

SMOKE SCREEN
At the opening of the campaign, Mr. Crerar stated, Premier Ferguson had made "a five-cent piece" the main issue. Finding that did not go so well, he had produced a "new smoke screen on the St. Lawrence waterway question."

"Mr. Ferguson's government," Mr. Crerar went on, "is taking a very active part in this federal campaign. Besides making speeches in southern Ontario, they are doing a lot in the north, particularly in the riding of Kenora, represented by Hon. Peter Ikenan, Minister of Labor."

"They are doing a great deal of road work in northern Ontario. I presume it is to help unemployment, but the astonishing thing is that only friends of the Conservative Party can get jobs on the roads they are building. There is not a five-cent piece for anyone who might be suspected of voting for the Liberals at this election."

IMMIGRATION QUESTION
Mr. Crerar declared the Conservatives were inconsistent in their statements on immigration. They were now condemning the government for bringing in too many immigrants and so aggravating unemployment. Yet up until a year ago the Conservatives in the House of Commons had demanded more immigration.

Major-Gen. A. D. McRae, now chief organizer of the Conservative Party, had propounded a scheme for increasing the population of Canada by 1,500,000. He had proposed $300,000 be spent in bringing in 300,000 immigrant families.

TARIFF CHANGES
He had been twitted by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Mr. Crerar went on, with becoming a protectionist by joining the Liberal Government after having been leader of the Progressive Party, whose policy was free trade. "My reply to Mr. Bennett," he said, "is to compare the tariff schedules today with the schedules of ten years ago. The duties on agriculture implements ten years ago were twenty per cent. There have been no reductions as well all along the line. The duties on the implements of production have been lowered, and not on the duties on consumption. It is except in the face of strenuous opposition from the Conservative Party in the House of Commons. They said we were ruining Canadian industry, but all Canadian industries have expanded under the Liberal Government."

FOUR WORKERS LOSE LIVES IN QUEBEC RIVER

Maniwaki, Que., July 10.—While 300 fellow workers looked helplessly on, four river drivers were carried to their deaths in the treacherous waters of the Malheur River Tuesday.

Word of the tragedy in the Lake Kabanou district, ninety miles north of here, was delayed by storm-crippled telephone services and reached Ottawa only early this morning. Six men were sent out in a boat to break up a jam of logs with dynamite. Whether the break-up of the jam upset the craft or the strong current in the rapids turned it over is not known. Two of the men, stronger swimmers than their comrades, were able to conquer the turbulent waters and gain the shore. The remainder, their wild cries ringing in the ears of the horrified men on land, disappeared in the swirling current.

They were: James McAllister, forty-one, Maniwaki; L. Ripelle, twenty-three, Bouchette, Que.; D. Lacaille, nineteen, Red Lake, Ont.; and also Ted Chute, twenty-eight.

Twelve streets in Berlin have been named after the ex-Kaiser.

New Power Scheme In Saskatchewan

Prince Albert, Sask., July 10.—A proposal by interests of eastern Canada and the United States for expenditure of $4,500,000 on construction of a power project at what is known as the Sorehouse Bend on the Saskatchewan River is under consideration of the Saskatchewan government. The site for the proposed harnessing of the river, which would produce power for distribution throughout the province, is thirty-five miles east of Prince Albert.

It was said here that the Francis & Brown Engineering Company of Montreal and Boston, and Sons, Boston, were backing the scheme. It is considered development of northern Saskatchewan's pulpwood resources would follow completion of the project.

AN ECHO OF MR. BENNETT

EXCEPT IN POINT OF PHRASEOLOGY and in a few minor particulars, Dr. Manion's speech at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night differed but little from that which Mr. Bennett delivered when he was here recently. It was a reiteration of the charge that the policies of the King government had been responsible for the present economic situation in Canada, that thousands of Canadians had been driven over the border into the United States because they could find nothing to do here, that the Dunning budget was nothing more than an "election dodge," that, in general, only by electing a Conservative government on July 28 could the country be saved from economic and social disaster—just as the people were told by Mr. Meighen during the election campaigns of 1925 and 1926. Like his leader, of course, Dr. Manion was emphatic in his opposition to low duties on British imports.

It will require a great deal more than Dr. Manion's or Mr. Bennett's high-sounding generalities to convince the electorate that it would benefit the country to change its government at this stage. True, there are more people idle in Canada at the present time than there were a year ago; but Dr. Manion must have had his tongue in his cheek when he sought to make his audience believe that unemployment is a condition peculiar to this country, that all is well elsewhere, and that if the Conservative party had won the last general election, there would have been a very different tale to tell. He knows, on the other hand—the people of Canada are just as well aware of the fact—that never in the history of the Dominion has there been such an unprecedented period of prosperity as that between 1925 and the middle of last year. Only about two months ago, incidentally, one of our prominent bankers declared that if we had been as prosperous in 1925 as we are even now, we certainly should have considered ourselves very fortunate.

Nor does Dr. Manion delude anybody when he compares the employment situation in high protectionist France with free-trade Britain. France is the one country in the world without an unemployment problem, primarily because her rural population exceeds that of her urban population—an important factor often overlooked when comparing that republic's economic condition with that of other countries. Great Britain, as the records show, has steadily added to her urban population since the beginning of the present century, and now only twenty per cent of her people earn their living in rural areas.

If Dr. Manion's reasoning were anywhere near the truth, however, it follows that the United States, with the highest protective tariff in the world, must have all her factories working to capacity at the present time. On the contrary, a larger percentage of her industrial workers are unemployed to-day than the percentage of unemployed in either Britain or Canada. Here is a comparison: Canada—eight per cent unemployed; Britain—fourteen per cent unemployed; United States—twenty-one per cent unemployed. Then if Dr. Manion prefers to confine his comparisons to European countries, we may remind him that very highly-protected Germany, with a population of about 67,000,000, is considerably worried about the fate of more than 3,000,000 idle Germans.

As to the exodus of Canadians to the United States, the supposed loss of people between 1921 and the present time, Dr. Manion knows that for more than three years Canadians have been returning to this Dominion from the republic to the south at an average of between 4,000 and 5,000 a month, while the exchange of population now, instead of being against Canada, is in our favor—more people are coming north to make their homes here than are going south to the neighboring republic. Nor did Dr. Manion try to explain to his audience last night what happened to the 1,380,000 who left Canada for the United States between 1912 and 1921, the last period of Conservative rule at Ottawa. There is nothing on the records to show that any member of the party to which he belongs raised his voice to suggest a remedy for what then was a serious situation, a situation which does not now exist. At the election of 1921, of course, the people of Canada supplied their own remedy—they elected the Liberals to office.

Unfortunately for Dr. Manion and his party, their description of the Dunning budget as an "election dodge" has a very hollow ring to it. Apart from the fact that Mr. Bennett accuses Mr. Dunning of stealing his "thunder," unbiased business throughout the country regards the Finance Minister's proposals as not only in the best interests of Canada, but also as a further practical step towards greater trade within the empire. As to the latter, by the way, we have Dr. Manion's own statement that "we will not grant preferences without reciprocal agreements." The Conservative party would, if elected to office, abolish all concessions to the British exporter, and abrogate the trade treaties into which the King government has entered with other parts of the empire.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

THERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT THE spectacle of a man flying around the earth that stirs old memories. It is impossible to review the amazing flight of Major Kingsford-Smith and the Southern Cross without casting back in the mind to other trips around the world—to Magellan, and Drake, and the other hard-bitten adventurers of old days who refused to be afraid of unknown seas. Magellan set out with four rickety ships and got one back to Spain, giving his own life in the Philippines as a climax to a cruise of unimaginable hardship and peril. Drake dodged Spanish cruisers, doubled Cape Horn and came back with his ship crammed with gold and jewels. The others of that era who followed in his track had tall tales to spin when they dropped anchor in home waters again, and the story of the marvels they had seen was fully equalled by the story of the dangers they had undergone.

There could not be a more dramatic contrast; Magellan and Drake in cranky, snub-nosed cockle shells, painfully reeling off the miles on an almost endless journey, and this young Australian sailing through the air at 100 miles an hour, endangered chiefly by the possibility that his compass might go wrong and let him fly about in circles instead of hitting the mark.

By virtue of the speed at which he traveled, of course, the risks which Kingsford-Smith faced were more sudden, less predictable, than those which faced the globe-circlers of other days. And the news traveled ahead of him. Magellan went over the horizon and dropped out of human knowledge for months; Kingsford-Smith was on schedule almost to the minute, with crowds waiting for him at every stopping place.

Kingsford-Smith's flight symbolizes the marvelous growth in communications that has taken place since the old days. The isolation, the loneliness, the great distances that separated man and man in Magellan's day are gone forever. The peoples of the earth are being drawn closer and closer together. We are getting much more familiar with each other and with the world in which we live.

Indeed, we may be getting too familiar. For Magellan, climbing up the Pacific, was like a man on a strange planet. He could expect anything. Golden cities and islands of enchantment were within the range of his possibilities. He had the sense of wonder, the sense of strange, unimaginable glory, ahead of him. And Kingsford-Smith—like all travelers today—knew precisely where he was going and what he would see there. There were no fables to explore. Great flyer that he is, he cannot pilot his monoplane to very many spots that have not been photographed and described already.

We may have lost more than we think in this connection. The feeling of mystery and amazement that environed the ancients has left us forever. Its loss may not be entirely good for us.

CITIZENSHIP AND WAR

THE COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES

have just handed down a decision which will prove of profound interest to other nations, since it shows in a striking way the changing attitude of the American people towards war. This ruling had its genesis in the case of Professor Douglas C. Macintosh, of the Yale Divinity School, who applied for naturalization to the United States District Court in New Haven. Professor Macintosh was asked, in accordance with the requirements of naturalization, whether he would be prepared to bear arms in defence of the United States. He replied that he would be willing to do so only if he believed the war to be morally justified. The court thereupon ruled that "the petitioner is not attached to the principles of the United States," and refused him citizenship.

Professor Macintosh was not satisfied with this ruling. He took his case to the Court of Appeals. There his counsel, John W. Davis, distinguished lawyer and Democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1924, advanced a masterly argument to overthrow the ruling of the lower court. He contended, in brief, that Dr. Macintosh, in declaring his primary allegiance to God, was only following the doctrines of Christianity. Therefore, "Dr. Macintosh was in accord with the principles of Christ; to deny him citizenship would mean that every sincere Christian was not attached to the principles of the United States."

The Court of Appeals agreed that a blanket promise to bear arms in any cause was not required of a citizen, and was not part of the "principles of the United States." And it is here that the altered attitude of the United States and of the world towards war is definitely affirmed by the United States courts in these words: "There is a distinction between a morally-justified and an unjustifiable war as recognized in international law. Recognition was given to such distinctions in the recent Kellogg Pact."

In other words, the United States, through the Kellogg Pact, has renounced war as an instrument of national policy, and declared that war is justified only under certain circumstances. Having done so, it cannot deny its citizens the right to believe that war under some other circumstances is not justified. There was a time, and not so long ago, when neither the courts of the United States nor of any other nation would have handed down such a ruling.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

U.S. AND PREMIER KING

The Hamilton Spectator

Premier Mackenzie King's speech in Brantford, which he opened the election campaign for his party, is being carefully—and rather nervously—scrutinized in the United States. Canada is Uncle Sam's "best customer," and the humor which that customer displays of not taking it lying down is causing general alarm; it must be said, however, that it creates little or no surprise. As keen business people, citizens of the United States fully realize Canada's position; there is no disposition to regard whatever retaliatory measures may be adopted by this Dominion as a sign of unfriendliness or an unwillingness to trade on a reciprocal basis. It is realized that Canada's action is entirely one of self-defence, if not of self-preservation.

THE UNPOPULARITY OF MR. HOOVER

The New York Times

That the President has become relatively unpopular, even his friends do not deny. But what is the main reason for it? The way to answer this question is to look at the early part of 1929 when the prosperity of 1928 and of the early part of 1929 had continued unbroken, and even expanding, up to the present moment, would these angry or pitying cries about Mr. Hoover's failure have been heard? Everybody knows that Mr. Hoover would not. The chicken in the pot would have made people forget everything else. This is a pretty low one to apply to the political success of a President, but it is applied, consciously or unconsciously, by millions of Americans, and Mr. Hoover undoubtedly suffers from it.

This column's private sea serpent fails to appear—with distressing results.—The talkies do a good job—and there is great misery among the young.

By E. B. W.

FOR A LONG time now I have been waiting for summer to come. I don't mean the kind of summer we have been enjoying lately, with sharp winds and almost, just there can be no real summer without a sea serpent. Every year before this time we have had a sea serpent of some kind, and with him came the summer. Without him what can you expect but winter in July? Now this column has a personal and almost proprietary interest in sea serpents. For a long time this province didn't have a sea serpent at all until one day, when my business was to collect the important news of the country, a gentleman up in the Okanagan wrote to the fisheries department he had just sighted an Okanagan Lake—a creature with a head like a sheep and a tail ten feet long. Being young and sceptical in those days, I wrote an article on the sea serpent which was not as respectful as it might have been to the discoverer of this phenomenon. If I remember rightly, I even was indiscreet enough to make some foolish observations about the liquor stores of Vernon, which had just opened then, and their effect on the popular imagination.

THIS CAUSED a lot of trouble up in the Okanagan. The original discoverer wrote a wrathful letter to the fisheries department and quoted numerous witnesses to prove that it was really a sea serpent with a head like a sheep and a tail a hundred feet long. The tail kept growing! And that, though few know it, was the beginning of world-famous Ogopogo. Before many weeks had passed, I found my sea serpent in English magazines, with various kinds of heads, some like sheep, others like monkeys and a call which had developed to the length of an even mile. Finally I was broken-hearted to read in a solemn account published by a Vancouver newspaper, that my friend had become frozen in the ice of Okanagan Lake and died miserably. But such was his remarkable power of recuperation that he was as lively as ever the next spring.

FROM THEN on he has never failed British Columbia, and his advertising value has been enormous. Through the creation of Ogopogo, indeed, I feel that I have given my native province something like an endowment of many millions. Ogopogo has become an established institution now. He is known to every news editor in Canada and given the run of the front page whenever and wherever he likes. Occasionally some spurious imitation sea serpent, like the one up at Williams Lake, may get a little cheap publicity, through the reputation of the old master, but no rival ever lasts long. This year, however, as the discoverer of the Ogopogo family, I am humiliated to say that my friend has not yet appeared. No one has seen his sheep's head and his remarkable tail, now grown to several miles in length. And until someone sights him again, we are talking about summer at all. And if he is really dead, I hesitate to think what will become of our climate.

THE FAMILY of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle are confident that he will speak to them shortly from the spirit world. Everyone will hope that this may be true, but even if he does speak, most of us will not hear him. Happily, then, the talkies have preserved the speech and the personality of Conan Doyle with a remarkable realism. It was only last week, curiously enough, that a talkie of him, sitting in front of his house and patting his ancient dog, was shown at a local theatre. The picture was remarkably lifelike and the speech was recorded almost perfectly. It was not difficult, as you watched and listened, to imagine that Conan Doyle was there in the flesh. Every inflexion of his voice, every slight hesitation and mannerism, was faithfully recorded on the film for all time; and for once the talkie people were wise enough to give him time to develop and grow, instead of cutting him off short, as they usually do, after just sufficient to get one interested.

IF THE GREAT producing companies wished to do the world a real service, they would make such talkies of all the outstanding men of our time. These films, reproduced in countless classrooms a few decades hence, would give our children an idea of history which we cannot possibly have. To understand the possibilities of such records, you have only to think how valuable it would be for us to have lifelike talkies of the great figures of the last 5,000 years, in place of vague legends and printed records, which cannot possibly convey the personality of a man as his own speech can. If the talkies would develop something of that sort one could almost forgive them for everything else they have done. Which is plenty.

YEARS AGO Mark Twain wrote somewhere in one of his books that the legendary happiness of childhood was all bunk. His reasoning, I think, was that if children were happier than grown-ups, they didn't know it, and were just as badly off as if they weren't. This is the reason which proves Twain's theory. Thousands of children from one end of this continent to the other are in a state of suspense and misery which we have not experienced since we left school. For this is the time when examination papers are being marked, and no one knows how he or she is coming out.

And the worst of it is that a hard year's work and a good knowledge of one's lessons is no guarantee that one will come out at all. Ever since I commenced my matriculation examinations, with a sound knowledge of geometry and no idea of algebra, and got 85 in algebra and 51 in geometry, I have not believed in examinations. But then, I have often disagreed with the laws of gravity also. Somehow it is hard to get away from these things. But at least during the hours of their great tribulation we can think kindly of those thousands of little minds that are waiting and wondering whether their names are on the pass lists or not. And we can think of ourselves, if not to them, that they are the victims of a very imperfect institution which, as they will find out soon enough, resembles in this respect most of the other institutions set up to keep our little world in some kind of order.

MARITIMERS HEAR BENNETT STATE VIEWS

Federal Conservative Leader Speaks at New Glasgow, Nova Scotia

By Thomas Green, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

New Glasgow, N.S., July 10.—Before an audience representative largely of Scottish ancestry, Hon. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, spoke here yesterday evening in the interests of Col. Thomas Cantley, who in the election contest in Pictou, is being opposed by H. McQuarrie, Liberal, in a midnight party contest.

Dealing with the tariff and steel and coal, Mr. Bennett asked:

"How can you make a steel industry in Canada if we spend $1,000,000 a day to buy iron and steel products from the United States? How can you make a coal industry if you send $600,000 annually to the American Republic to buy coal, and $6,500,000 to buy coke?"

DAIRIES MENTIONED

Canada's dairy industry, he said, "had been ruined by the New Zealand trade agreement, which the government proposed to cancel four years too late."

He believed the only remedy was to see that Canadians were given fair opportunity, an even break, with the countries of the world. This he proposed to do at the first session of parliament if the people would return the Conservatives to power.

Mr. Bennett said Canada had bought in one dollar's worth of goods from the United States to replace one dollar's worth of goods that could have been made in Canada.

"We have deprived Canadians of too much work in the development of Canadian industry," he said. "Do you realize that under the present policy, instead of making steel in Canada we have developed Canadian miners and steel workers of the country they deserve and we have driven them to other countries."

PEOPLE'S DESIRES

An opposition paper, the Conservative leader went on, had asked why he had not referred to the change of government in 1921. Well, he declared, the people of the country had apparently thought the policies of the Liberals might better serve the interests of Canada. "Now," Mr. Bennett continued, "at the end of eight years the Canadian people are asking themselves what has been the result of the change from a Conservative to a Liberal government."

Mr. Bennett reported his pledge for a national highway. And, if the Conservatives were returned to power, "we will assist in the building of main trunk highways so the provinces will be able to utilize the money they would have had to spend on trunk roads for raising the standards of secondary highways and developing tourist traffic."

Mr. Bennett directed attention to the fishing industry in Canada. "We propose," he stated, "as soon as we come into power to study this matter from every angle."

Mr. Bennett's speech here was preceded at an earlier hour by an address to a meeting at Antigonish.

Returning to his native province of New Brunswick to-day, Mr. Bennett will speak at Rexton and Moncton. The railway matters, the Conservative leader will pay particular attention in the course of his remarks.

TOO MUCH OF A CONTRAST

To the Editor:—Radio programmes of the best music are, unfortunately, less frequent than they were a few years ago. Lovers of good music, however, now have a treat every Tuesday evening when KPO broadcasts a concert given by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. KPO does not come in very well just before dark, and yesterday evening another station was broadcasting a play, which at times interfered with the music.

One of the finest compositions that has ever been written was beautifully rendered by the orchestra, but occasionally was drowned out by voices. One of the speakers in the play shouting: "Murdoch, damn you, where are you?" To those who do not care for music these plays are interesting; and are no doubt listened to by many; but may I suggest to the writer of the plays that the language be modified? A sentence like this would not have had the startling effect: "Murdoch, old top! I say, damn it all, where are you?"

HOW TO SHOP—SMOOTH SURFACE IS IMPORTANT IN TILES

The shopper should know something about tiles because they are now being used in the bathroom, kitchen, fireplace, basement and miscellaneous rooms.

Tiles should present a smooth surface; they should not be chipped or contain spot, unless spots are purposely included in the design for effect. In white tiles the color should be fairly uniform, but in other tiles a variation in shade in each tile is desirable. By securing first grade tiles—several grades are sold—the shopper not only gets a product free from defects, but also insures a better grade of workmanship in the laying of the tiles.

Workmanship is important. The finished surface must be absolutely smooth. See that the job is left absolutely clean; some workmen, if not particular, may leave traces of cement on the tile. In an installation where design is a factor, all units should be part of the design, and there should be no misplaced tiles.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, JULY 10, 1905

It was with some surprise that a Times representative learned from Messrs. Flett and O'Brien, the Washington correspondents, who were here on Friday night, that Victoria was the best advertised city in the place in recent times.

Considerable excitement was created at White Horse last week by the arrival there on the steamer Quich of a number of miners from the Nisutlin district with news of a gold discovery on Willow Creek. It has been found to be valued at $750, and indications are such as to warrant the belief that another good placer ground has been discovered.

NINE MEMBERS OF NEW YORK SHOW ARRESTED

New York, July 10.—The fall of the curtain at yesterday's matinee of the eighth edition of Earl Carroll's "Vanities" was the signal for a police raid, in which nine of the production's principals were arrested, charged with putting on an indecent show.

The raiders carried eleven warrants, but two of them, calling for the arrest of Carroll and Louis Lott, treasurer of the New Amsterdam Theatre, could not be served as neither was found.

The raiders entered a stage door and went behind the scenes, waiting until the matinee was over.

Meanwhile, a huge crowd gathered outside and chorus girls leaning from dressing-room windows jeered police who were guarding the theatre.

A couple of years ago Earl Carroll served a term in a Federal prison for perjury in connection with his famous bathtub party.

Shakespeare, Alexander the Great, Cromwell and Napoleon were re-dressed.

Charles MacIntosh, an Englishman, patented a cloth steeped in or coated with rubber in 1922.

AT THE THEATRES

POPULAR FAVORITE OF THE STAGE HAS LEAD AT DOMINION

Claudette Colbert, who deserted the ranks of the stage actor die-hards to show that movie acting is as much an art as more than an art than "legitimate" performing, will be seen and heard in her biggest yet screen role at the Dominion to-day, Friday and Saturday where "Young Man of Manhattan" is now playing for a three day run.

Miss Colbert made her greatest stage success in the "The Barker" with Walter Huston. This was one of the best-received shows of its year, several seasons ago. She later made a great talkie hit with Huston in "The Lady Lies."

Oddly enough two former associate players will be seen and heard with Miss Colbert in the new film. They are Charles Ruggles, who was the bibulous man-about-town in "The Lady Lies" and Norman Foster, who played the juvenile lead in the original company of "The Barker on Broadway."

In "Young Man of Manhattan" Ruggles is cast as Shorty Ross, a role similar to the one he made such great laugh-bite with in "Gentlemen of the Press" and "Roadhouse Nights." Miss Foster in Ann Vaughn, the ambitious

MARY BRIAN PLAYS IN CAPITOL FILM WITH JACK OAKIE

Gary Cooper's sweetheart of "The Virginian" and "Only the Brave" has a new "boy friend." His name is Jack Oakie, and he may not be tall and gallant-looking but he is the screen's greatest Wizard of Woe-cracker.

And that seems to count for something for Mary Brian in "The Social Lion," showing at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday, because in the finale of the picture Mary and Jack co-operate in a great big kiss.

It's all about a young garage mechanic, a former enlisted man in the cavalry, who plays polo so well that he gains the stellar position on the society country club polo team of his town. But his success with the mallet makes him hanker for success with a snippy young society deb, and that's where he falls off his horse. In the end he has to admit that the plain little girl in moderate circumstances is the best little girl for him.

Jack Oakie of course is Marco Polo (himself) Perkins. Mary Brian is the plain little girl. And there is Skeets Gallagher to help fill in with rip-roaring wise-cracks whenever Jack is catching his breath after a particularly side-bustin' nifty.

LORD DERBY'S ASCOT VICTORY

"Bosworth wins!" It was a popular victory with the vast crowd that watched Lord Derby's horse Bosworth appropriate the world-famous Gold Cup Trophy at Ascot, England. The finish of the historic race is pictured above. Lord Derby, the noted sportsman who recently visited the United States, never before had won the coveted trophy.

FAMOUS SINGER'S SON ONE OF THOSE WHO WROTE "MAMBA"

Those who have enjoyed the romance, adventure and thrills of "Mamba," the Tiffany all-talking, all-Technicolor production at the Playhouse Theatre this week, will be interested to know that Frederick Schumann-Heink, one of its authors, is the son of the famous diva, John Reinhardt was his collaborator. The African locale provides a background entirely appreciated by the Technicolor camera. This is one of the finest color pictures ever seen.

There were wild mountain sheep in the Rockies and other parts of America before its discovery by Europeans.

ROD LA ROCQUE IS PLAYING HERE WITH POPULAR NEW STAR

Rita La Roy, whom Hollywood calls "the miracle girl," plays opposite Rod La Rocque in "The Delightful Rogue," the all-talking Radio Picture, now at the Coliseum Theatre.

She won her nickname because, in seven months in pictures, she has played seven featured roles.

Miss La Roy has a footlight background of five years on the legitimate stage and two years in vaudeville, principally in Canada.

The titian-haired actress came to Hollywood to play an outstanding role in Cecil B. DeMille's "Dynamite." Since then she has appeared in six other features. This record for a newcomer is considered miraculous.

A. Leslie Pearce, stage director of "The Delightful Rogue," which is from the Wallace Smith story, "A Woman Decides," made many exhaustive tests before he made RKO executives selected Miss La Roy for the La Rocque foil.

Rin-Tin-Tin now at the Columbia Theatre in "On the Border," Warner Bros. and Vitaphone all-talking picture, has mastered the sign language.

During the filming of a scene for a talking picture, the director must remain perfectly silent. Rin-Tin-Tin's entry into the realm of sound necessarily put a stop to Duncan's audible directions. The entire industry had entered an era of silence.

Rin-Tin-Tin soon learned the sign language. Lee Duncan stands beside the director, as before, but all his directions to the dog are conveyed by

MUSICAL CLUB DISSOLVES AND NEW ONE FORMS

Special General Meeting of Members Ends Veteran Club After Eighteen Years

Victoria Musical Arts Society to Be Formally Organized Next Tuesday

"We, the undersigned, hereby declare that we desire to form a society under the name of the Victoria Musical Arts Society."

The object of the society is the advancement of music and the allied arts, particularly among young students, and to create a scholarship fund to be administered by a committee of three to be chosen by the board of directors of the society.

The operations of the society are to be chiefly carried on in the city of Victoria.

PASSING OF VETERAN CLUB

This formal declaration, signed by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. W. B. McKicking, Mrs. T. H. Jones and Miss Gwendoline Harper, and unanimously accepted at a special general meeting of the members of the Victoria Musical Arts Society on Tuesday afternoon, marked the passing of this veteran club after eighteen years of existence, and the rising phoenix-like from its ashes, of a new musical organization in the city.

The new society will be formally organized at a special meeting to be held in the T.W.A. on Tuesday afternoon next, to which all members of the former club and others interested are invited, and in the meantime Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. F. G. Aldous and Miss Gwendoline Harper will assume charge of the assets of the dissolved club.

Mrs. W. B. McKicking, who was appointed president of the Ladies' Musical Club at its annual meeting in May, presided at the meeting at which Mrs. J. O. Aldous moved, and Mrs. G. A. Sullivan seconded, the motion to dissolve the Ladies' Musical Club. This being carried, Mrs. W. A. Jamieson and Mrs. Gwendoline Harper moved and seconded, respectively, that the meeting take steps to form the new society, which, on the suggestion of Miss Marian Hemling, is to be called the Victoria Musical Arts Society.

The meeting then accepted the declaration set out above, which was introduced by Mrs. Cameron as chairman of the committee appointed by the musical club to look into the matter of a new constitution for that society.

REASONS FOR CHANGE

In suggesting the dissolution of the Ladies' Musical Club, it was explained that changed conditions, due largely to the radio, the phonograph, and the facilities for the hearing of good music, had made it obvious that there was not any more the same need for a musical club operating on the lines of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club.

Conditions to-day also made it desirable to have a mixed membership. The suggestion was advanced that the programme be considerably broadened to permit plans for lectures on music and related subjects by distinguished musicians visiting the city from time to time, that study groups be organized, and that greater opportunity be given by the club to young musicians within its ranks.

NEXT MEETING

At next Tuesday's meeting the principal business will be the adoption of constitution and by-laws, the election of a board of directors, and the striking of a new seal for the society.

The business meeting of the Victoria Musical Arts Society will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Empress Hotel ballroom. The programme for the evening will consist of a variety of musical numbers, including vocal solos, instrumental pieces, and a full orchestra. THIRD PARTY OF MOTHERS GO TO SUNSHINE CAMP

Happy Band of Women and Kiddies Enjoy Holiday; Appeal Made

A third group comprising ten mothers and thirty-seven children, have now taken up their abode at Sunshine Camp at Saanichton for a two weeks' holiday, where they have no thought of the morrow. Early to bed and early to rise is the motto. Everyone is ready to get up early for fear they might miss some of the good times that are in store for them each day; all ready at one time for a splendid breakfast.

HEALTHY HOLIDAY

Mothers vacationed with household cares enjoy the rest at Sunshine Camp with no housework to think of, other than keep their own little cottage tidy and take turns in washing the dishes, and after all washing dishes away from home is looked upon as part of the entertainment. No meals to think about—all ready and hungry when the dinner bell sounds, and all day free to swim, walk, read, sew or play games with the children. The swings are very much in demand, as they all want to swing at the same time. Some of the younger set look forward to the fish they are going to catch. Just last week a little boy in town was given five cents for an ice cream cone. When he returned home from the store he showed his mother his purchase and much to her surprise, instead of the ice cream cone, he had bought fish-hooks to use when he went to Sunshine Camp next week—pleasure in anticipation as well as participation.

It is very gratifying to the league to hear the glowing description of the different mothers and children on their return to the city. The holiday is all too short; there is, of course, the odd exception, where camp life does not appeal. While every day is a day of rest at the camp, Sunday is looked forward to with great pleasure when the mothers have the opportunity of listening to the clergyman who has given of his time on Sunday afternoon to go and talk to them. They are also privileged to hear Dr. E. Peiton give a talk on health once during their stay at camp, all of which is beneficial to both soul and body.

DONATIONS RECEIVED

The following excerpt from a letter shows the spirit that is bound to put over any undertaking: "Enclosed please find our cheque. It was decided at our last meeting that we send one-tenth of our money to the Sunshine Camp which you are providing for mothers and children."

Those who have observed the good results of these vacations in both the spirits and health of the children, will testify to the merit of the league's endeavor, and it is with this object in view that an appeal is made to friends to keep in mind the Sunshine Camp.

Donations both large and small are much appreciated. The league acknowledges with thanks the following contributions: Mary Roberts, $5; J. H. Sayward, $100; Winifred McLeod, $10; Friend (Friendly) Help, $10; Agnes Benny $15; Donor, $5; Stephen Jones, $10; Friend, $10; Mrs. R. H. Davey, $5; Mrs. G. S. YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Edress will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a prompt reply.

THERE IS ALWAYS A REASON FOR THE CROSS CHILD

"What on earth makes Jimmy so cross? He does nothing but cry. If I speak to him he cries. If he doesn't get his way the first thing he cries. All day long that child's mouth is open, howling. It just drives me wild."

When the child is going through the cross, irritable period between two and four or thereabouts it is helpful to look less at the child, and more keenly and critically at his surroundings. Just play is not always enough to keep some children interested. And play interests change so rapidly, too, that what entrances the child at eighteen months may bore him to ready tears at two and one-half years. The kindergarten period is close at hand with some four year olds, and they are ready to take up those new and developing interests.

TOYS MAY BE UNSUITABLE

It is difficult for parents to keep pace with the child. Just as the mother gathers what she feels sure is a choice selection of toys that would keep any child happy, she finds the child no longer interested in them. There may be nothing wrong with the toys or with the child but perhaps this particular selection of simple toys no longer stimulates his interest, or possibly the toys may be so advanced that he must wait a few months or even years before they will serve to amuse and inspire him.

Being cross is not enjoyable to the child. He'd far rather be happy. He can't always tell you what is wrong, even if you ask him. Often he needs companionship his own age. It is pitiful when a lonely child has to develop all his play interests alone. Some children manage by bringing an imaginary companion to life, dubbing him Mary or John and making him the confidant of their play plans, and a participant in them. Sometimes rather pathetic substitutes for flesh and blood children grow more real to their creator than any child on the street. There is danger in letting this go too far, for play companions never criticize, they never quarrel, they never differ with their small companion and children can't develop normally under such placid and ideal conditions of play. They have to learn to meet adverse situations and hurdle obstacles.

If the well child is cross, the mother must cease being satisfied with his surroundings, no matter how splendid they seem to her. We have a leaflet containing lists of toys and play apparatus which may help to decide what may be wrong with the present assortment of playthings—send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request, please—then the next step is an even deeper one. Is it need for companionship? Physical handicap? Fatigue is a state of which all children are not aware. Or just lack of inspiring play material? There is always a reason why little boys and girls are cross.

A REAL FISH STORY

The kind of luck that deep-sea fishermen dream about was the lot of Marion Edwards and Greta Gage, the two Balboa girls, who went fishing for a halibut. One of them hooked a halibut, but before she could pull in her victim the giant black sea bass shown here had swallowed it. After two hours the two girls managed to land the big fish.

A story about the women's league

Winie was the least bit nervous. The women's league was meeting at her home. "I must really serve some nice refreshments," she thought. "What can I serve?... the very thing!... a bean salad!"

She took four cups of Clark's Pork and Beans that had been chilled in refrigerator. Then she made a delicious dressing with 3 soupspoonfuls salad oil, 6 soupspoonfuls vinegar, 4 soupspoonfuls minced sweet onion and 1 soupspoonful chopped parsley.

She seasoned it with salt and a dash of Clark's Governor Sauce and mixed it with the beans.

Winie felt proud of herself as she arranged the salad in individual dishes. "I just know they will all think it delicious." (P.S. They certainly did.)

Clark's Pork and Beans are made from the finest hand-picked beans—cooked by expert chefs in our own kitchens—carefully blended with Tomato, Chili or Plain Sauce.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Sgt.-Major J. Read Wins Dawson Match After Great Fight

CANADA'S athletic team in the British Empire games gives promise of being the strongest that has ever represented the Dominion in the national or inter-empire competitions. The wonderful showing of the Canadians at the Olympic games of 1928 has proven a great stimulus. More athletes are in training than ever in the country's history, with the result that there is a greater scramble to gain place on the national team for the Empire games than has ever been the case in connection with the assembly of any of Canada's Olympic teams. Canada will be strong this year in all track events, from the sprints to the six-mile event, with the possible exception of the quarter-mile hurdles.

News has been such a host of good sport material. Perry Williams, Olympic sprint champion; Johnny Fitzpatrick, Leigh Miller and Ralph Adams head a list of most promising young men, with threats to the "Big Four" coming from all parts of the country. The struggle for places in the first section of the Canuck team will exceed anything ever witnessed in the Dominion.

The same applies to the quarter and half-mile distances. Jimmy Ball, second in the 400 metre race at Amsterdam, will head the squad of quarter-milers, and will have as company Alex. Wilson, Montreal; Fred MacBeth, Hamilton; Buster Brown, Edmonton; Johnny Owen, St. John's; Johnstone, St. Catharines; Burrows and Lewis of Hamilton, and others. Ball has done little of an outstanding nature since the 1928 Olympics, mainly because he lacks the opportunity, but reports state he retains all his speed.

Wilson has been one of the season's sensations. At Amsterdam he gave indications of developing into a marvellous athlete. This year he was a student at Notre Dame University fulfilled the promise of two years ago. In the U.S.A. Intercollegiate championships he finished third in the 200 yards race, and placed him in the front rank of quarter-milers. He will be one of the stars of Empire Games. Fred MacBeth, the Hamilton schoolboy who made the 1928 Olympic team but failed to deliver as expected because of an injured foot, went through his freshman year at Notre Dame without defeat. Brown, of Edmonton, has a great burst of speed, but suffers, as does Ball, from lack of competition. He must be considered. Lewis, the Hamilton colored runner, has great endurance, and along with the rugged Johnstone and equally strong Bellamy, figure as the best of the younger field.

In the half-mile division the outstanding performer should be Brant Little of Winnipeg. Little is also a student at Notre Dame, and his achievements during the many intercollegiate competitions in the United States were most remarkable. He finished second in the U.S.A. national intercollegiate 400 yards championship event, and is regarded as a consistent 1.51 performer for the distance with ability to do 1.53 under right conditions. Little has been handicapped by a nervous disposition, but is gradually conquering this trouble, and to-day ranks as Canada's leading half-miler. He will be up against the opposition in the Canadian trials that Ball and Wilson can look for in the quarter, but he will have capable runners alongside of him, including Percy Pickard of Hamilton, who has returned to form after two bad years, and is now running better than ever. Big and strong, Pickard should break 1.58 during the summer. At present these two appear to be the best of the field.

Pleasing as are the prospects with regard to the sprinters, quarter and half-milers, the outlook as it concerns the mile runners is just as encouraging. In fact, Canada has a right to claim possession of the best lot of mile runners in the country's history. In the days of Jack Tait and others—twenty odd years ago—the Dominion had runners capable of beating 4:30 consistently. Then came the period when athletics suffered a decline, and it was not until the development of schoolboy athletics began about 1910, that any real prospects at the distance appeared. Now it is a different story. Heading a great field are to be found the two Walter boys, brothers from Listowel, Ontario, now attending Marquette University. Of the two, Jack is possibly the best, although the margin between the pair is very small. In the Central intercollegiate championships of the U.S.A. he recently won his race in better than 4:18.

Ranking next to the Listowel pair comes Eddie King, Canadian champion, and Art Key, the Toronto policeman, who were very prominent last year. The Walter boys and Key were members of the last Olympic team, but their performances at that time were very disappointing. Key was a competitor in the 5,000 metre race, but upon his return to Canada turned his attention to the mile; in fact, he is not averse to entering the odd quarter-mile race. He evidently found his correct event and is considered as likely to do 4:30 or better before the present season is over. King is a Hamilton youngster who never competed in a previous competition previous to September 1929, when he won a club handicap event. Last year he was a consistent winner, good for 4:28. Last year, experienced, older and stronger, he will reach the coveted 4:30 class this year. He's a great prospect.

On past performances the four named above would be entitled to rank at the top of the field, but their places are not any too secure. Others are in the offing, and of these the real threat is Walter Morphy of the Hamilton Olympic Club. For three years this youngster was regarded as one of the best boys in Canada at three or five miles. In spite of the fact that his style of running was unorthodox, he was a consistent winner, his greatest effort coming in July of last year, when he forced John Humphrey of Oxford University in the match between Oxford and Cambridge combined team and the Garrison Rifleman Captures Trophy After Being Tied With D. A. McIntosh of Vancouver for First Place; Read Also Finishes in Tie With Sgt. S. Watson of Canadian Scottish for First Place in Vancouver Match; Mainlanders Fail to Win Individual First Prize.

By Times Special Representative
Heals Rifle Range, July 10.—Although greatly outnumbered by their opponents from Vancouver, Victoria rifleman more than held their own in the second day of the fifty-second meeting of the B.C.R.A. On Tuesday Major Fred Richardson of the 5th C.G.A. took the honors in the MacDonald Briers match, while Sgt. Brown of the same regiment captured the Westminster competition from a large field. Yesterday, Sgt.-Major Jimmie Read of the Garrison Rifle Association defeated all comers in the Dawson Cup match and brought further laurels to his home town with his remarkable score of 48 out of a possible 70. The Vancouver match resulted in a tie between Sgt. "Sammy" Watson of the Canadian Scottish and Sgt.-Major Read of the Garrison, so that Victoria is once more assured of a winner in that match. So far, the Mainlanders have failed to carry off an individual first prize, which certainly speaks very highly of the local marksmen. The shoot-off for first place in the above-mentioned event will take place to-day. Although the visitors have had to do down to the locals in the individual matches, they have more or less carried everything before them in the team competitions. The Seaford Highlanders of Vancouver added another victory to their growing list when they secured first place honors in the Dawson match with an aggregate of 258. The Garrison were four points behind them with a total of 254. Third place honors went to the B.C. Air Force of Vancouver with 252.

The most important competition yesterday was the Dawson match, which was open to all comers and attracted 300 and 600 yards, seven shots per man at each range. Last year the event was won by Sgt. A. H. Caplin of the Victoria Rifle Regiment. Caplin was well down the list yesterday. The winning score came into the secretary's office when Sgt.-Major Jimmie Read of the Garrison came home with a score of 68 out of a possible 70. Right behind him came another 68 as McIntosh of the Vancouver Rifle Association presented his card. However, as the Victoria Rifle Regiment had the money award of $15 went to him, while a shoot-off was decided upon to establish the ownership of the silver trophy in the rifle. Read never gave his opponent a chance, but a change of wind eyes and an inner for a grand total of 24. The best Mainlander could do was 21 out of 25. Pte. J. Jamieson of the Victoria Rifle Regiment secured third place money with a 97.

Another tie
Firing ten shots at the 600 yard range in the afternoon match, Sgt.-Major J. Read of the Garrison and Sgt. S. Watson of the Canadian Scottish created the second tie of the meet.

Hamilton Olympic Club to set a new Canadian record for three miles.
Canada's representation in the six miles race will struggle to any, depend largely upon the marathon team selected for Empire Games. Two of the country's best men at any distance from 5 to 26 miles are Johnny Miles of Hamilton, Canadian 10,000 metre champion, and double winner of the Boston marathon, and Harold Webster, Canadian five-mile champion, who finished fourth in the Boston marathon this year. Miles has always been a marathoner who dropped into the odd five or ten-mile race as a training stunt. Webster has confined nearly all his attention to races at three, five and ten miles, but has started in four marathons. He was second in the Canadian Olympic marathon trial of 1928, although he had never trained for the race at that time. In the Canadian championship marathon was forced to quit at the end of ten miles because of muscle cramp.

Webster is a veteran—he refuses to give his age. Miles is a youngster. Both are in a class of their own, and are equally at home at five miles, or at twenty-five, proving the theory long held by Hamilton trainers that the best marathoner is the champion ten-miler.

Ranking next to the Listowel pair comes Eddie King, Canadian champion, and Art Key, the Toronto policeman, who were very prominent last year. The Walter boys and Key were members of the last Olympic team, but their performances at that time were very disappointing. Key was a competitor in the 5,000 metre race, but upon his return to Canada turned his attention to the mile; in fact, he is not averse to entering the odd quarter-mile race. He evidently found his correct event and is considered as likely to do 4:30 or better before the present season is over. King is a Hamilton youngster who never competed in a previous competition previous to September 1929, when he won a club handicap event. Last year he was a consistent winner, good for 4:28. Last year, experienced, older and stronger, he will reach the coveted 4:30 class this year. He's a great prospect.

On past performances the four named above would be entitled to rank at the top of the field, but their places are not any too secure. Others are in the offing, and of these the real threat is Walter Morphy of the Hamilton Olympic Club. For three years this youngster was regarded as one of the best boys in Canada at three or five miles. In spite of the fact that his style of running was unorthodox, he was a consistent winner, his greatest effort coming in July of last year, when he forced John Humphrey of Oxford University in the match between Oxford and Cambridge combined team and the

KIRKBRIDE IN EIGHTS AT KELOWNA
Victoria Tennis Player Advances in Interior Championships at Kelowna Reaches Semi-finals of Boys' Singles; Velda Rithet and Backler Win

Kelowna, B.C., July 10.—Defeat of Lewis, Seattle, and Miss McNab, Vancouver, by Dodsell, Sumnerland, and Mrs. Gardner, Kelowna, provided the main upset in yesterday's matches of the interior tennis championships. The Valley pair won, 11-9, in the first set, after a grueling battle, and found little difficulty in the second, winning by 6-0. Ryall and Williams, Vancouver, advanced into the eights in the singles, the former defeating Bredin, Kelowna, 6-2, 6-2, while Williams beat Logie, Kelowna Club champion, in straight sets. Langille, Dodsell, Lewis, Kirkbride and Sheehan also went into the eights bracket on the day's play.

Miss Peace, Kelowna, defeated Miss McNab, Vancouver, 6-1, in the women's singles. Mrs. Muir, Vancouver, won her match against Miss Proctor, Enderby, 7-5, 6-2. Langille and Nordstrom, favored to repeat their last year's win in the men's doubles, entered the quarter-final round by eliminating Hill and Logie of Kelowna, 6-3, 6-0. Velda Rithet, Victoria, and Miss Straus, Vancouver, went into the quarter-finals in the only match played in the women's doubles, winning in straight sets from Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Watson, Vernon. Williams and Mrs. Ross, Vancouver, went into the eights in the mixed doubles event, winning 6-2, 6-2, from the Kelowna pair, Ford and Ford. The Eagles out-hit their opponents, but were unable to make the best of the many scoring opportunities that presented themselves.

San Diego Invites Winners Of N.P.A.A.O. Titles Here To Row for Coast Honors

A new incentive will be offered competitors in the N.P.A.A.O. regatta, which opens at Brentwood at 3:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, it was learned to-day when A. H. Cox, secretary of the association, announced that winners of the different events would be invited to compete in San Diego for Pacific Coast titles later in the season. The invitation is expected to boost the enthusiasm of the oarsmen to a new height. San Diego's request that the winners go south to represent the northwest in the Coast championships, lessened the disappointment felt here when it was learned the Californians would not be able to come up for the meet.

Frank Adams, former champion sculler of Vancouver and one time a competitor in the Canadian Henley, will also be among the missing, but followers of the game feel that his failure to come over for the senior division. Adams will be replaced by Frank Coleman in the doubles shell. Art Bergman will row with him. Orlo Kendall, sensational Portlander, will be the sole representative of the Rose City. It was stated by Cox to-day.

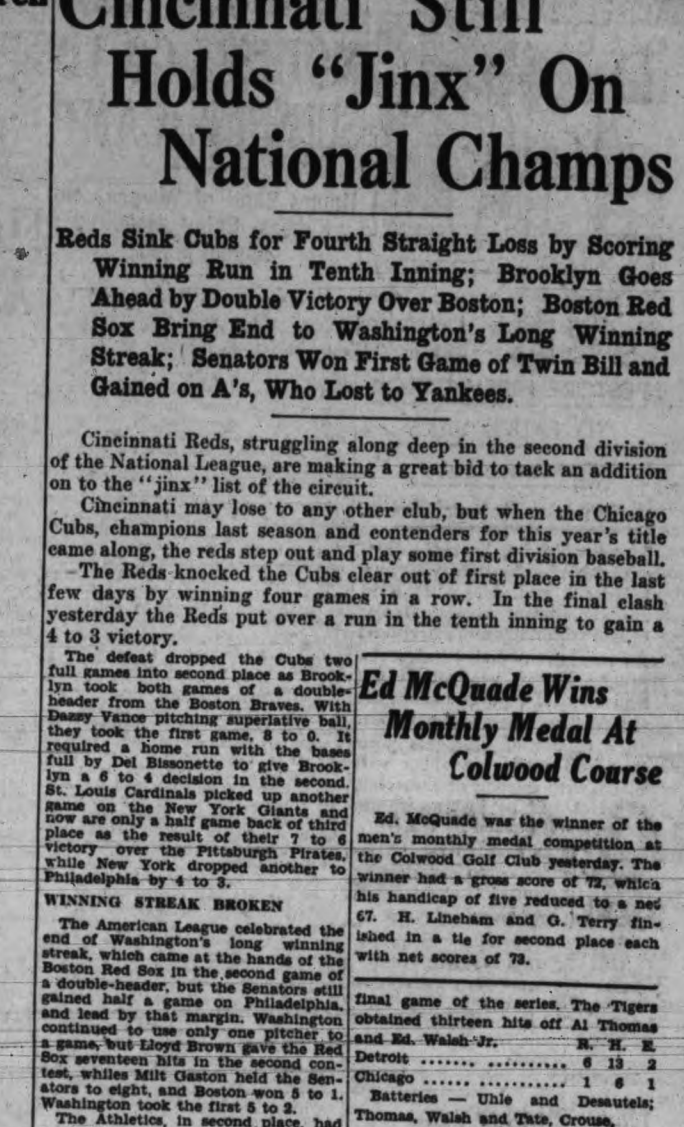

The narrow field in the coxswain's seat was down to Victoria, Vancouver and Brentwood. From reports these clubs appear to be evenly matched and should thrill the spectators with driving finishes in all events.

By Robert Edgren Cincinnati Still Holds "Jinx" On National Champs

Reds Sink Cubs for Fourth Straight Loss by Scoring Winning Run in Tenth Inning; Brooklyn Goes Ahead by Double Victory Over Boston; Boston Red Sox Bring End to Washington's Long Winning Streak; Senators Won First Game of Twin Bill and Gained on A's, Who Lost to Yankees.

Cincinnati Reds, struggling along deep in the second division of the National League, are making a great bid to tack an addition on to the "jinx" list of the circuit. Cincinnati may lose to any other club, but when the Chicago Cubs, champions last season and contenders for this year's title came along, the reds step out and play some first division baseball. The Reds knocked the Cubs clear out of first place in the last few days by winning four games in a row. In the final clash yesterday the Reds put over a run in the tenth inning to gain a 4 to 3 victory.

The defeat dropped the Cubs two full games into second place as Brooklyn took both games of a double-header from the Boston Braves. With Dasey Vance pitching superlative ball, they took the first game, 8 to 0. It required some run with the bases full by Del Bissonette to give Brooklyn a 6 to 4 decision in the second. St. Louis Cardinals picked up another game on the New York Giants and now are only a half game back of the now on the result of their 7 to 6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, while New York dropped another to Philadelphia by 4 to 3.

The American League celebrated the end of Washington's long winning streak, which came at the hands of the Boston Red Sox in the second game of a double-header, but the Senators still gained half a game on Philadelphia, and lead by that margin. Washington continued to use only one pitcher to game, but Lloyd Brown gave the Red Sox seven innings on the second contest, while Milt Gaston held the Senators to eight, and Boston won 5 to 1. Washington took the first 5 to 2. The Athletics in second place, had a very bad day against the New York Yankees, and went down by a 12 to 6 score.

The struggle among the five trailers in the American League remained unchanged, as the pair with the better standings, Cleveland and Detroit, won their games. The fourth place the Indians managed out a 9 to 3 decision over St. Louis. The Detroit Tigers strengthened their hold on the top of the second division with a 6 to 1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Brooklyn, July 10.—The Robins took both ends of a double-header from Boston Braves yesterday, winning the first game, 8 to 0, and the second, 4 to 3. The Robins' fine pitching and the second 6 to 4 as Bissonette broke up a pitchers' duel yesterday on the New York Giants, while De Hoag was elected for thirteen innings, including homers by Lombardi and Giffin. Los Angeles, July 10.—Los Angeles advanced another notch toward clinching the first half Pacific Coast league race by defeating Seattle, 4 to 3, yesterday. Ed Baecht held the Indians to seven hits, five of which were bunched to account for the club's trio of tallies. The hitting of Harry Hannah played a big part. After Seattle had tied the score in the third he batted out a home run to put the Angels out in front. R. H. E. San Francisco 4 9 3 Portland 12 18 1 Batteries—McDougal, Turpin, Ferry and Fenebaugh. Sacramento, July 10.—Hollwood hit Tony Freitas and the two pitchers that followed him with a vengeance yesterday evening to beat the Sacramento Solons in the second game of the evening series, and knocked a glimmering whatever slim chance Sac had of beating out Los Angeles in the first half race. Open War Looms Between Minor and Major Ball Leagues

Smaller Leagues Declare Majors Being Autocratic

Class AA and A and B Groups Take Exception to Ultimatum of American and National Leagues on Drafting of Players; George A. Putnam of San Francisco Seals Declares Minors Will Make Fight of It; Western League President Says Majors Out to Get Complete Control of Ball.

Canadian Press

Chicago, July 10.—A new front on the baseball war took form to-day as the three "big" minor leagues and two smaller circuits considered an ultimatum from the American and National Leagues which demanded that the minors either accept the universal draft or hunt alone for players.

In their first midseason joint meeting yesterday, American and National League club owners approved a resolution that all player relations with the three Class AA leagues—the International, Pacific Coast and American Association, the Three Eye League, a Class B organization, and the Class A Western League, be severed December 1, 1930, unless the latter agree to become subject to the universal draft.

The drastic step means that the major leagues will release no more players to the minor groups involved, or buy any players from them.

From the Pacific Coast, officials of the San Francisco club said they would not submit to the universal draft without a battle.

George A. Putnam, secretary of the league, characterized the ultimatum as "an autocratic move that will not be put on us without a fight."

"Final say in the situation," Putnam said, "rests with the Pacific Coast League as a whole, but we have taken up the challenge now. The working agreement (a modified draft agreement) we have had with the majors for the last several years has been satisfactory and we feel that any attempt to revise it to the benefit of the big league clubs is an injustice."

Dale Gier, president of the Western League called the action "merely a complete control of ball."

"It simply is a peg on which to hang a lot of trouble," Gier said. "The right of selection means nothing as so few players are drafted and the purchase price generally is much more than the draft price."

President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association expressed surprise at the action of the major league owners, but would make no comment on the probable attitude of the directors of his league.

Victoria Players Doing Well in Annual Championships at Vancouver

Doreen Swayne, F. Tremayne, S. H. Ryall of Victoria and Others Win

Vancouver, B.C., July 10.—Well over sixty matches were played on Wednesday in the B.C. junior tennis championships at the Point Grey Club courts. George Yoshi, defending champion, won one single quite handsily. Colin Milne, in the boys under eighteen class went down in a surprise defeat before the well placed strokes of MacGregor, while Nicol beat Ted Cardinal in straight sets in another well-played match. F. Forhan scored victories over Maxwell and Ames. There was a good attendance.

Ames and Forhan scored good victories in the doubles, while Ryall and Cardinal did well to defeat McRae and Young. All four in this latter match are sons of former well-known first string players.

In the mixed doubles, the youngsters are gathering excellent experience, and some very good tennis is being played.

Yesterday's results follow:

Two of the Drawing Cards At the Rotary Gala at the Crystal Garden To-morrow

Above is shown Lisa Lindstrom, who will compete in a 150-yard match race against Constance Hart and Catherine Ames in the world champion women's exhibition gala at the Crystal Garden to-morrow evening. Lisa has been swimming well lately and should give a good exhibition.

On the right is her team mate, Adelaide Lambert. Both are members of the New York Women's Swimming Association Olympic title-holding relay team.

These swimmers will be seen along with a galaxy of new champions fresh from the United States National meet at Long Beach last week.

Helene Madison, Seattle star, will be the feature entry in the gala.

Set New Marks For "Old Wooden Face"

Both Seniors and Juniors Break Records at Central Park Yesterday Evening

Norman Stewartson Scores Five Strikes in Junior Division

Records continue to fall as far as "Old Wooden Face" is concerned. Yesterday evening the elusive gentleman made his second appearance at Central Park and when the smoke of hostilities had cleared away it was found that Norman Stewartson had beaten Leslie Morley's record of four strikes by denting the canvas five times in nine attempts.

Norman was competing in the junior division of the boys' pitching contest sponsored by The Victoria Daily Times. Scores were generally higher as the boys of the district renewed their acquaintance with "Old Wooden Face," determined to avenge themselves for the insults he had piled on their pitching ability during his first visit three weeks ago.

Only one round was necessary in the under fifteen event, in which Stewartson scored a clear-cut win, although closely followed by Stanley Baxter with four strikes and Lloyd Knapp with three.

Among the seniors, who fire from the fifty-foot range, competition was much keener, however, and it took three rounds to determine the winner. In this affair Tom O'Connell and P. Lesby both set a new record by putting over four perfect throws, while a number of the rivals were close behind them.

Tom O'Connell had the best total, scoring eight strikes out of twenty-seven attempts. Doug Crawford was next with seven and Max Winkler and Bill O'Connor third with six.

FINE PITCHING

Last week it was freely predicted that a score of four would win the prize, but it has been surpassed so soon that the critics are beginning to wonder just how high Victoria's young pitchers can climb.

Five out of nine seems almost impossible when one views the size of the target.

The juniors have led their older rivals in record making to date. That extra ten feet seems to give the youngsters a better start at the target, for juniors were the first to score three and four and five strikes. In this connection it is interesting to note that one prominent senior league pitcher took a crack at the target a fortnight ago and registered exactly one strike.

"Old Wooden Face" is scheduled to appear at Oak Bay Park next Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock.

Keen Competition Features Events In Police Sports

Athletes From Victoria Y.M.C.A. Make Clean-up, Winning Every Open Event; Len Nicholls and "Chuck" Cunningham High Point Winners With Two Victories Apiece; Seattle Huskies Capture Tug-of-war; Vancouver Police Win Relay Event; Bicycle Riders in Bad Pile-up.

With police athletes from Seattle, Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria, besides a large number of outside competitors taking part the annual track and field sports of the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association were staged yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. The lengthy programme provided keen competition and the large crowd of spectators which attended was well entertained. The dancing competitions on a stand in the middle of the field also proved a source of much entertainment.

During the programme the Lieutenant-Governor Bruce and Miss Margaret Macdonald paid a visit to the grounds. His Honor took great pleasure in watching the young dancers perform in the various difficult dances.

"Y" STARS CLEAN-UP

In the open events Archie McKinnon and his band of athletes from the Victoria Y.M.C.A. made a regular clean-up of the silverware, capturing first place in the eight competitions. Len Nicholls and "Chuck" Cunningham were the two highest point winners for the "Y," each capturing two events.

In the tug-of-war between police teams from Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, one of the feature events of the programme, the "Huskies," from Seattle, under Constable Fred Mills, 1, Ellen Fisher, Robert McElroy, Mina Smith and Vera Edwards (George Jay), Vancouver found no trouble defeating Victoria in one straight pull. In the Seattle heavyweights dug themselves in and pulled the mainlanders in two straight pulls, after much effort.

Vancouver's crack relay team scored an easy victory in the half-mile event for police teams. The mainlanders opened a small lead in the first heat and gradually increased it to the finishing lap, Seattle was second and Victoria third.

In the 100-yard open race for police, D. Shirley of the Vancouver police, ran a fine race, to nose out Doug Bone of the Victoria police, with D. W. Shearer of Vancouver third.

Consistently William Phillips beat out the favorite Doug Bone, Vancouver, in the 400-yard sprint for Vancouver island policemen. Bob Muford finished in third position, a few feet behind the heels of Bone.

NICHOLLS WINS

Len Nicholls, star "Y" runner, captured the honors in the 440-yard open event, completing the distance in fifty-four seconds flat. A. R. Stewart of the Victoria police finished second. Nicholls chalked up his second victory of the day in winning the running broad jump with a leap of twenty-one feet two inches.

"Chuck" Cunningham, another "Y" entry, lifted the trophy in the 100-yard half-mile handicap. In the latter race he started from scratch, and after trailing the field on the first lap, forged to the front, to nose out P. Caird of the Vancouver "Y" and C. Finnemore of the Victoria "Y" in a driving finish. It was one of the best finishes of the day.

Art Chapman, of the Victoria "Y," had little trouble winning the high jump, clearing the bar at five feet six inches.

The bicycle races were marred by a nasty accident in the one-mile event, four riders crashed on the track, making the final turn before the finish. Len Rush, who was leading at the time, skidded, and Robbina, Tyson and Jackson piled into him. Tyson and Jackson remounted, with the former winning the event. None of the riders suffered serious injuries, although they received a number of nasty bruises. Rush and Robbina were forced out of the three-mile event, through their bicycles being badly damaged.

Don Stewart of the Island Cycling Club was the winner in the three-mile event.

Vancouver and Seattle entrants carried away the majority of the medals and trophies in the various Scottish dances, which took place on a platform in front of the grandstand. The dances were executed by the young competitors with plenty of skill, and each winner received a great ovation from the packed stands. Constable George Vane was in charge and carried out his duties excellently.

Summer Activities Call for Intensive Advertising

SUMMER—the season when the world and his wife are out of doors—on the highways—at the beach—in the garden—on the golf links—by stream and lake.

The season that develops a multitude of new wants and makes insistent demands on everyone for the goods and services necessary to the enjoyment of its varied delights.

Hot weather foods and cooling beverages — Summer frocks and garden equipment — bathing suits and sunburn alleviators—sports clothes and furnishings for the Summer cottage — gasoline and spare tires.

And these in addition to people's normal all-year-round buying activities. For family larders and wardrobes need replenishing fully, as much in July as in December. Youthful couples buy and furnish homes in August as well as in February.

Astute advertisers do not cut down their advertising when the mercury goes up. They realize that Summer, which brings Canada its $300,000,000 tourist industry, also brings them sales opportunities afforded by no other season of the year.

And they know that the quickest, most economical means of capitalizing these opportunities are the advertising columns of the daily newspapers.

Writer of Sea Stories Was Once Cabin Boy

Three times Frederick Maryatt tried to run away to sea, but every time his father caught him and sent him back to boarding school.

Once again, Frederick made up his mind to go to sea. He ran away from school and made his way home to beg his father to let him go. But his father promptly sent him back again. He put him in the stage each, gave him the money for his fare, and told him to be a good boy and stick to his lessons.

As soon as the coach stopped to take on a passenger, Frederick slipped out of the door, and went back home. His father was away, but he found his little brother playing in the yard. The two boys went to the theatre, spending Frederick's coach fare.

When he came home from the theatre, and told his father he was back again, Mr. Maryatt was in despair. He finally took him to a ship of which a friend of his was captain, and found a place for him as a cabin boy.

Frederick Maryatt, born in England,
July 10, 1792, wrote "Midshipman Easy," "Masterman Ready," and other books for boys about the sea.

COLLECTION PLAN
AGAIN REVIEWED

Ward Two Ratepayers Discuss Saturday's By-law at Cloverdale School

Seventy residents of Ward Two, Saanich, yesterday evening, attended a meeting held at Cloverdale school and discussed the garbage by-law to be voted on Saturday. A. R. Sherwood was chairman.

Eden explained the by-law, which would immediately create a garbage collection system for a special area in Ward Two, and parts of Wards Seven and Ten.

The cost was stated to be about $4,800 annually, to be paid by the benefited area by an addition to the annual tax bills, commencing in 1931. A levy of two mills on land and on one-half the assessed worth of improvements was expected to cover the cost, the estimate being based on the experience of Esquimalt.

Many questions were asked, there being few objectors to the scheme.

Miss Henderson dealt with the effects of the Dunning budget on the housewives of the Dominion and also showed just what advantages accrue from the trade treaties entered into by the King administration. Employment was also linked up with the budget and its economic effects, she said.

Mr. Martin told of what the Liberals had done for the returned men since 1922 and advised his hearers to vote for the party which had achieved so much success in the past.

MORNING MEETINGS
The first of a series of short business men's meetings was held in the Liberal headquarters, corner of View and Blanshard, this morning at 10.30 o'clock, an enthusiastic crowd attending. These meetings will be held every morning, lasting a quarter of an hour. Daily meetings for women will be held in the headquarters at 3 o'clock. Mr. Henderson will give a short address at the meeting to-morrow afternoon, after which the preliminary Liberal women of Victoria will speak. Two will be invited.

Joseph Patrick will be the chairman of the preliminary meeting in the Chamber of Commerce to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The candidate and Alderman H. O. Litchfield will address the meeting and a large audience is expected. This will be the first occasion that Mr. Henderson has had a chance to express his views at length and considerable interest has been aroused, particularly after his brilliant speech last Monday at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

SEAFOORTHS WIN MATCH
ON PROTEST

Awarded First Place in B.C. Electric Match at Heals Rifle Meet

Sgt. T. R. Davie of Seaforths Leads in First Stage of Lieut.-Governor's Match

By Times Special Representative
Vancouver, July 10.—After consideration of a protest sent into the executive committee of the B.C. R.A., yesterday afternoon by the Seaforths Highlanders of Vancouver and the Canadian Scottish of Victoria, the Garrison team forfeited first place honors in the B.C. Electric team competition yesterday.

The Garrison team at first had been declared winners of this event, with the Vancouver unit taking second place.

It appears that when the match was being fired Sgt. Major E. Durling challenged one of his shots. According to the rules in the battle he had missed the target all together. The next man fired, and when the target was again raised two indicators were visible.

During immediately claimed one of these, which happened to be an inner, as his own. After a brief discussion, the shot was allowed, and four points were added to the Seaforths' total, bringing the Garrison's aggregate to 482, and giving them first place in the match. Upon the results being posted, Lieut. Dave Davie of the Seaforths, the captain of the Seaforths, lodged their protest. They contended that the shot should not have been added.

PROTEST SUSTAINED
A meeting of the B.C.R.A. executive was summoned and after a lengthy discussion it was decided that Durling's shot could not be accepted, and that the Seaforths Highlanders would be awarded the trophy and the prize of $12. This decision dropped the Garrison down to fifth place and out of the money altogether. It was rather an unfortunate incident, especially for the Victoria team. However, the decision of the committee was accepted and the trophy was presented to the Seaforths by the Lieut.-Governor.The following is the order in which the team finished in the B.C. Electric match:
Seaforths Highlanders of Vancouver 481
Vancouver Regiment 482
4th C.O.A. Victoria 483
Vancouver Rifle Association 479
Garrison of Victoria 478
Canadian Scottish "A" team 478
Royal Canadian Air Force 477
Canadian Scottish "B" team 470
B.C. Regiment 435

Firing conditions were ideal again to-day, and it began to look as if the Seaforths, the Lieut.-Governor's match, which is being shot to-day and Friday, will be high. A light breeze continued to sweep down the range, but the marksmen have become accustomed to that by now. To-day was not nearly as hot as Wednesday, when heat strokes played havoc with many of the competitors.

FEATURE MATCH
The Lieut.-Governor's match is the feature event of the meet. It is to be the B.C.R.A. what the King's prize is to Biele. There are close to 100 marksmen entered, and the competition is of a strenuous nature. The match is fired in two stages. The first stage is at 200, 500 and 600 yards, is open to all comers. The second stage, fired on Friday from the 300 and 500 yard range, is open to the competitors who make the thirty-six highest scores in the first stage. The "Dunsmuir" Challenge Cup and the Lieut.-Governor's silver medal and $5 will be awarded to the highest score in the first stage. The beautiful cup for this competition was presented by James Dunsmuir in 1907, and was won last year by Quartermaster-Sergeant A. E. Evans of the Garrison Rifle Association.

Sergeant T. R. Davie of the Seaforths, was the only one to register a possible 35 in the first stage at 200 yards, fired this morning. Close behind him came nine competitors with 34's. Sgt. F. Richardson, Cpl. H. E. Conroy and Capt. Tapley were the local shots in this group.

Capt. D. R. Blair, of Vancouver, turned in a brilliant 35 in the Victoria match this morning. It is expected this score will win the competition.

Helpful Legislation of Chicago Meeting Explained to Local Clubmen

P. L. Naismith and J. H. Beatty Sketch Activities During Session

Impressions of Rotary's international convention in Chicago recently were presented to members of the local club by P. L. Naismith and J. H. Beatty, M.F.F., delegates from the Victoria group at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. Both spoke glowingly of the magnificence of the meetings and paid tribute to the work the Chicago club had done in making the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Rotary International a success.

The general entertainment and amusement arrangements were outlined by Mr. Naismith. Despite the fact that several hotel reservations had been cancelled at the last moment, the gathering was the greatest ever held by the club. Over 11,000 attended, he said.

GORGEOUS PAGEANT
In some detail he described the gorgeous setting for the meeting, speaking of the decorations and musical arrangements. The Chicago Symphonic Orchestra, the splendid pageant, and many other spectacular attractions added to the success of the meeting.

Dealing with the program itself, he outlined the procession which opened the function. Following "Miss Chicago" and sixteen charter members, came standard bearers, garbed in national dress, with the flags of all nations in which Rotary had been established.

OBSERVE EMPIRE DAY
British Empire day was observed in a magnificent manner. Following the banquet, which twelve empire branches attended, hundreds thronged to the president's dance, given in honor of the British organization.Equally gorgeous was the Venetian Night presented by the Chicago club. UNIVERSALITY SHOWN "The universality of rotary shown in the session impressed me more than anything else," Mr. Beatty stated, outlining several novelty features introduced at the convention.

Referring to the foreign delegates, Mr. Beatty announced that all spoke fluent English and presented many excellent ideas.

Despite the heat under which Chicago sweated, delegates turned out by the thousands to attend the forums.

Briefly, Mr. Beatty sketched some of the legislation enacted during the session.

Rotary organizations in Great Britain and Ireland, which had formerly attempted to carry on in their own way, were tending more towards the international ideal, the speaker said.

Through the fellowship spirit of the club was being developed. There was a growing recognition of the status of over a million in population, needed two clubs. He pointed out that there were fifty-three clubs in existence in London.

Vice-president Percy Watson, acting as chairman, thanked the speakers for their talks.

B.C. BIRDS ALL

"Congratulations. Only province with every bird accepted. Our birds in wonderful condition."

GREAT LIQUOR SEIZURE MADE AT NEW YORK

Twenty-three Men Arrested; Rum Worth $250,000 Taken

New York, July 10. — Making a surprise raid by land and water, police, customs men and prohibition agents arrested twenty-three men and seized a $100,000 yacht, $250,000 worth of liquor, seven trucks and touring cars and a speed boat early yesterday at Scarborough, fashionable Westchester County residential section on the Hudson River.

Four of the alleged rum runners escaped and Philip Piscitelli, thirty, Allentown, Penn., was shot by the raiders. He is in a serious condition in an Ochsling hospital.

The Scarborough police, suspicious when the yacht, the Halcyon, slipped down the Hudson in the dead of night to halt near a pier, gave the tip which resulted in the biggest liquor haul of recent months.

The land police forces closed in when the patrol boats hove into sight. Completely surprised and with both av-gates of escape cut, the rum crew offered little resistance, although they outnumbered the raiders.

Piscitelli was shot when the officers said he made a motion as if to draw a gun. Four men dashed through the police and escaped.

The Halcyon, customs officials discovered, had been cleared out of Chicago for New York, coming through the lake and the Erie Canal to Albany and on down the Hudson.

Prohibition Administrator McCampbell, elated at the success and extent of the seizure, expressed belief the Halcyon had taken on its cargo at Chicago.

Brought to New York, twenty-two of the alleged rum runners were arraigned before a Federal commissioner and released on bail. All gave New York addresses and Joseph Bedell, thirty-two, was pointed out as leader of the outfit. His bail was set at $10,000 and the others at $2,500 each.

The owner of the vessel was not disclosed.

K. Robinson Speaks For A. E. Munn in Vancouver North

Vancouver, July 10.—A. E. Munn's campaign in Vancouver North is making good progress, according to reports from the Howe Sound and P.O.E. portion of the constituency, where the Liberal candidate for the Commons is spending this week.

At Squamish Tuesday night he received strong platform support from Kenneth Robinson, who was the Conservative nominee opposing him in the provincial election of 1924. Mr. Robinson said the policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett would be disastrous for Canada at this time.

Ottawa, July 10.—The ban on low grade apples from the United States, landing in England or Wales, does not apply to Canadian apples, according to officials of the Department of Agriculture. In the case of United States apples, all shipments have to be accompanied by certificates and the lower grades, Grade C and unclassified, are not allowed into England or Wales at all between July 7 and November 15. The action was taken to prevent carrying of the apple maggot or railroad bug into England.

MANION SEES CANADA WITH WOEFUL EYES

"We are on the eve of a very important election, which may prove a turning point in the career of the country," Dr. Manion stated following his introduction by Premier Tolmie. Beneficial work had been done by the present government, but "the grain was lost in the chaff," he asserted.

He stated that conditions in Canada were now more depressed than they had been for twenty years, due to the King government. "If you look into the prices of stocks to-day you will find them near rock bottom. Look into farming, conditions are deplorable. In eastern Ontario and Manitoba conditions have not been so depressed for a generation as in this last year. If farmers had to sell to-day they could not get the cost of the buildings. I shall be surprised if conditions in British Columbia are much better. They may be better near Victoria or Vancouver because of the market offered."

CANADIANS MADE ROBOTS

"As far as unemployment is concerned I have never before seen such deplorable conditions in July. Vancouver is paying out double as much now in relief as last year. A train wreck Ontario resulted in slaughter of a score of robots. Those men were not robots, they were good Canadians seeking work. From Winnipeg we see photographs of unemployed morning the city had been beaten back by police," he asserted.

"The people of the west are much more interested to-day in unemployment than they are in the budget," Dr. Manion declared.

Mr. King not only had no solution to offer, but had no idea of conditions in the land, Dr. Manion maintained. He quoted the Premier as having stated that his tour had shown Canada to be prosperous.

"I wonder through which sections of the country he traveled," Dr. Manion queried, criticizing the assertions by Messrs. Dunning and Cramer as to the lack of serious unemployment in Canada.

"Politicians are the only people in Canada to-day who can do anything to solve unemployment in the face of the deplorable conditions now existing," Dr. Manion declared, denouncing Liberal publicity posters showing Canada to be "prospering."

"Unemployment is the question of the day. The one reason for depression in Canada is the Liberal policy of importing commodities which the land can very well supply for herself," Dr. Manion asserted. "I will give you instances of the depression of the season we experience to-day. We imported last year 43,000,000 pounds of New Zealand butter; we bought $100,000,000 worth of foreign agricultural products, mostly from the United States, and we bought $3,000,000 pounds of beef, pork and mutton which we should have raised at home. "Our vast wool imports have reduced the number of our operating woolen mills. Instead of the seventy-eight working a few years ago to-day there are only thirty-four."

LOCAL REFERENCE

"You in Victoria have one mill meeting difficulties, that is only an instance of what is going on everywhere. "Why, we had as many sheep in Canada at Confederation as we have to-day, while Australia has over 107,000,000 head and little Ireland has as many as there are in broad Canada. The reason is because we have no protection."

The United States had been doing all in its power to exclude Canadian farm products, Dr. Manion noted, saying that Mr. King had taken no definite steps to combat that policy. In the eight months preceding May 1921, during the Conservative legislation, Canada sent to the U.S. $142,000,000 worth of agricultural produce. For the corresponding term this year only $37,000,000 had been sent, Dr. Manion stated.

"All Mr. King talks to-day is promises, excuses and platitudes. These will not help the unemployed. Mr. Bennett outlines a policy of employment undertakings, such as the Pacific outlet to the Peace River and other great schemes."

"Mr. King says soup kitchens in Canada in summertime are not political questions. I say they are. Surely we can afford to spend tens of millions if necessary to give bread to the hungry. Mr. Bennett is ready to do it."

BRITISH PREFERENCE

"We Conservatives believe in dealing within British Empire as much as possible, but we do not believe in trading to the detriment of Canada. The country needed reciprocal tariffs with the rest of the empire," he noted.

"Our policy is to put into force such tariffs that we will be able to deal with all other countries on fair terms, instead of as under Mr. King, giving our opportunities to the factories of the United States," Dr. Manion said.

"We do not intend to permit the manufacturers of Canada to exploit the people behind the protection given by the tariff wall," he said. "It does not require even a tariff commission," he said, pointing to France as a land without idle workers as a result of rigid protection, while England, under free trade, has given nearly 1,000,000 the dole. It is not cheapness of goods you want, it is the ability to be able to buy the goods at some price. People do not worry whether butter is thirty or thirty-five cents when they are in the market."

Skinny Men Gain 5 Lbs. In 30 Days

Feel Superbly Healthy With Marvelous New Vitality and Strength—Or Money Back!

McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—so rich in health-promoting, invigorating and rejuvenating elements—that's the secret how so many thin, anemic men are adding sturdy, rugged flesh on their scrawny frames. Now they're building up amazing power of endurance, great vitality and energy.

Cod Liver Extractives have been prescribed for years by world's greatest medical authorities for rundown, weak, nervous men, women and children. The great energizing, flesh-adding and health-regulating substance, found most abundantly in the livers of the lowly Codfish, has been extracted and put into delightfully pleasant and palatable sugar-coated McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets.

50 tablets cost only 60 cents at McFarlane, Vancouver and Owl Drug Stores—or any drugstore and if any skinny man doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days—his money back.

work, but when they have no bread they cannot buy butter at any price," he said.

"If a tariff does run up the price of goods a little bit we are not going to worry about it," he commented in closing his discussion of the tariff policy of the Conservative Party.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF

"Mr. King is making much of having treated soldiers well. He had no more to do with it than Mr. Plunkett or I had. The concessions were the work of a non-partisan committee. Mr. Bennett moved the resolution providing that men making claims should be given the benefit of the doubt. I submit Mr. King should quit trying to make political capital of this soldier business," he said.

BAMBOOZLING BUDGET

"This budget is a pure election budget, got out for the purpose of catching the votes and for nothing else. It is a vote catching-measure which, if it failed, would certainly disappoint its parents. It is a two-sided shield, got up to show free trade to the farmers and protection to the east, in truth bamboozling both."

"Mr. King is talking of the effect of this budget on foreign trade. He says he is out for foreign trade. So are we Conservatives. But we are first for home trade. Look at the figures for this year. We bought $100,000,000 more goods from foreign countries than we sold, a change of our trade balance of nearly $200,000,000."

"The Prime Minister asked on Monday where Mr. Bennett going to get the men behind him to enable him to take office. I will tell you. He will get them in practically every province in Canada. He will gain fifteen to seventeen seats in Ontario and a few seats in Quebec. In Manitoba he will have ten or twelve in Saskatchewan from 7 up, and from Alberta he will have from four to six."

HEARD ONLY WORDS

D. B. Plunkett, the Conservative candidate, was greeted with applause and announced he would later address as length a meeting to be held within two weeks. "The Prime Minister of Canada has come, gone and delivered a two-hour speech. Yet I would ask you, has he delivered any profusion of facts? He has given a multitude of words, nothing more. He has talked of words, nothing more. He has talked of what the result will be?"

"He has hustled Parliament out of existence—now the people will hustle him out of office. I am tired of hearing 'who will represent Canada at London?' The people want to know 'who will be Prime Minister of Canada?'"

"Touching upon unemployment Mr. Plunkett said 300,000 men were tightening their belts while they waited in vain for Federal aid. 'Is it any wonder the Prime Minister is seeking a terfuge?' He has given a multitude of words, nothing more. He has talked of words, nothing more. He has talked of what the result will be?"

"Mr. King talks of Mr. Bennett blasting Canada's way to prosperity. He does not tell you that in his eight years out he has permitted American industry to blast into Canadian trade to the tune of $80,000,000 annually. I ask you to vote to put the Conservative out of power," he concluded.

AIRS "OBJECTIONS"

Mr. Reese Burns summed up the objections of Victoria's Conservative women to the King Government as falling under four headings: It had belittled the people of Canada; it had betrayed a trust; it had tried its best to shake the country's self-respect and had permitted other countries to exploit Canada.

PREMIER TOLMIE

Introduced as "the most popular gentleman in British Columbia," Hon. Dr. Tolmie said he had taken great interest in the success of Mr. Plunkett. He felt that a change of government would put renewed life into the country. "We know Mr. Bennett, we know the Old Country has confidence in him. We know that he has good luck in dealing with Britain," he said, telling of the removal of the cattle embargo, which he attributed to Conservative activity, although attained by a Liberal administration in Canada.

EXCHANGE TIMBER

Dr. Tolmie explained the Cathedral Grove preservation had been in hand since the Conservative party attained power, for acquisition of the timber, by exchange of other timber. The Cathedral Grove block is about to be cruised to ascertain how much timber must be given in exchange. Dr. Tolmie denied any intention to pay any cash.

"I am heartily behind Hon. R. B. Bennett and will give him every possible support. The best thing the people of Canada can do is to elect Mr. Bennett as Prime Minister of Canada," declared Dr. Tolmie.

"Perhaps the most important matter before the people to-day is unemployment. I am sure those who heard Hon. Mackenzie King on Monday were dissatisfied. As I heard him over the radio he reminded me of the lightward who sits in church and tries to slip away when the plate is passed around. "The government of this province is fully alive to the situation. It has ap-

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore. (Adv.)

SAANICH BILL FOR TUITION OVER $16,700

Municipality Must Pay For 146 Students at High School

Basis Arranged For Next Term; Action on Teaching Vacancies Deferred

Agreement between the City and Saanich School Boards on the amount of tuition fee to be paid for Saanich students taking their third year course next term at the High School, was reported at the meeting of the school board yesterday evening.

About seventy-five students will be affected by the agreement under which Saanich will pay on the basis of $120 per pupil.

Tuition for Saanich students at the High School during the term just concluded will cost the municipality $16,704. This amount, which involves the teaching of 146 students, will be forwarded shortly to the Saanich board.

TEACHING VACANCIES

Action was deferred by the board until its next meeting on the filling of vacancies in the teaching staffs of the schools. Municipal Inspector Deane stated there was one vacancy at the High School and two in the graded schools at the present time, with the possibility of two others. Resignations of one teacher at North Ward School and one at Quadra Primary were accepted.

According to the monthly attendance report, 5,697 students were enrolled at the city schools during June, including 1,086 at the High School. This showed a decrease of four from the figures of last June, and of 121 from the May attendance.

FINANCES IN GOOD ORDER

Finances of the board are in good shape, according to Trustee J. McMillan, who submitted the finance committee's report. Expenditures for the first six months of the year amounted to $308,018.57, as compared with $308,078.94 for the first six months last year.

Many Jobless Men Go to Work Site

Wenatchee, Wash., July 10.—False reports that many jobs are available at the Wenatchee dam construction project has resulted in hundreds of men from all parts of the northwest being disappointed here, according to R. E. McGrew, superintendent.

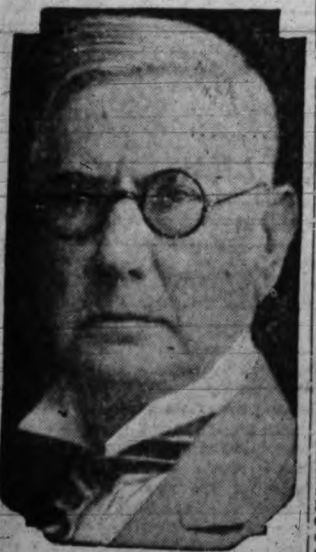

"He asked that newspapers inform the public no men are being hired. Some have driven all the way from Seattle and Portland for jobs and as many as 500 had applied in one day," he said.

The situation was working a hardship on the men, their families and local charities, McGrew added. Work could not begin until some time in August, when the river was lower, he declared.

Leading Educational Authority Tells of Wonderful Results
From New Sargon

"Words cannot express the good I derived from Sargon," recently declared B. H. Gordon, Southwestern Representative of Dodd, Keady & Co., one of the largest school book publishing houses in America.

B. H. GORDON

"I was in a terribly run-down condition and suffered constantly from stomach trouble. My kidneys gave me so much trouble I had to get up eight or ten times every night. I was underweight and had so little strength I could attend to no business at all that required physical exertion. Treatments and medicines consistently failed to help me.

"I talked with several people who had taken Sargon. They were so enthusiastic over the medicine I decided to try it. I was greatly surprised by the actual results. I am like a new person. I am no longer troubled with my kidneys, and I sleep like a child. I relish my meals and everything agrees with me. I have gained ten pounds and attend to my every duty now without tiring.

"Sargon is wonderful and I would tell everybody in the world about it if I could."

Was Postmaster-General For
Cabinet

Quebec, July 10.—Hon. Louis G. Belley, who was Postmaster-General from September to December, 1921 in the Meighen Cabinet, died at home here yesterday evening. He was born in St. Alexis de Grande Baie, Chicoutimi County, seventy-seven years ago and was educated at Laval University. He practiced law in Quebec and entered politics in 1902, when he was an unsuccessful candidate in Chicoutimi-Saguenay in the Dominion election. He was successful in the same constituency in 1906. In the election of 1921 he was a candidate in Charlevoix.

WHEAT CARRYOVER TO BE LARGE AGAIN

Canadian Press
Returns received as to stock of grain in store for the week ended June 2, 1930, show a decrease of 3,277,506 bushels, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Stocks for the week were as follows: Wheat, 131,735,712; oats, 9,927,331; barley, 22,639,194; flax, 512,382; and rye, 6,241,089, a total of 172,155,698 bushels.

Decreases are noted in wheat of 2,281,683; oats, 356,580; barley 213,771; flax, 38,061 and rye, 387,411 bushels.

The report says: Shipments of Canadian wheat from the Canadian and United States seaboard to overseas destinations have continued at a rate fully up to, or slightly exceeding, expectations and a decided improvement demand for tramp steamer tonnage took place during the last two weeks of the month. Stocks which have been held at country points are now being shipped to the terminals and the movement down the lakes has also improved substantially. The visible supply, however, continues to indicate unusually large supply in hand, and with only one more month to the end of the season, there is little doubt the carryover will be another very large one, both in Canada and the United States.

The weight of such large stocks of the market has caused a serious fall in prices, but with India importing this season and favorable prospects to date reported from most of the European crops, the lower price levels were inevitable. As long as the financial depression continues, European imports will not be likely to buy more than absolutely necessary for immediate requirements.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, July 10.—Wheat prices held steady and were little changed during the first half of today's session, but offerings became larger than could be absorbed and the market turned heavy with prices almost two cents from the close yesterday. The selling came from local, part of which was credited to the largest holding interest, but this could not be confirmed. There was also selling by Chicago, part of which was on spreads, while part was believed to be straight hedging from winter wheat deliveries. The buying was scattered, but not as good as on the past two days, when a general short covering movement was going on, due to the high temperatures prevailing throughout Western Canada. The temperatures were cooler this morning in all three provinces, but are again climbing, and the forecast for Friday is decidedly warm with little or no precipitation in sight outside of a few thunderstorms. There was no moisture received in the west during the past twenty-four hours, outside of a few light showers in the southwest Saskatchewan, and unfavorable reports continue to arrive from southern areas of the two western provinces. The news appears mostly bullish, but business continues disappointingly small, there being only a little export business in durum and practically nothing in springs.

Temperatures in the U.S. were also very high and many reports state spring wheat conditions are looking ground, with black rust in its early stages reported in many fields. There was only a quiet enquiry for cash wheat but spreads were advanced unchanged with no pressure of offerings. No change was reported in the flour situation. Both Canadian and U.S. wheat reports are quiet and there is no reason to expect a change in the very spotty basis out short with the tips turning white. An average crop in these areas now appears impossible, but this may show up only a little later. Would wheat on all moderate recessions. Wheat closed 1½¢ lower.

Coarse grains—These markets continue very quiet with very little going on in the cash markets and demand for everything very small. The futures are largely following the trend of wheat, but otherwise continue featureless.

Flax—This market was weak, closing 1½¢ to 3½¢ lower. The demand continues extremely quiet and the market is being liquidated. Note—Liverpool due 1½¢ to 1½¢ lower on Winnipeg.

BEARS ON RUN AND STOCKS GET SHARP BOOST

Brokers' Loans Show a Decrease of $6,000,000 For the Week

Standard Oil Is Bull Leader, as Indicating Favorable End of Oil War

Flood of Bull Rumors in Street Get Shorts Started Covering

New York, July 10 (B.C. Bond)—At the close of the market this afternoon, the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 227.39, up 5.35 points for the day; for twenty rails at 132.28, up 2.77 points; and for twenty utilities at 22.45, up 2.05 points.

Sales for the day totalled 2,162,800 shares.

Brokers' loans for the week show a decrease of $6,000,000, according to the official figures issued after the close.

Trading sentiment swung sharply to the buying side to-day, resulting in an aggressive recovery, increased activity and what appeared to be well defined leadership for a number of the representative industrials.

Strength of the market undoubtedly forced a substantial amount of short covering.

The morning tone was firm, but it was not until after the publication of the unfilled tonnage figures of the U.S. Steel Corporation at noon that the market headed aggressively upward.

The U.S. Steel tonnage figures showed a decrease of 91,163.

STANDARD OIL LEADER

Standard Oil of New Jersey was an outstanding leader and while there was no fresh news of importance on the oil situation, it was stated that the balance between crude production and consumption, including refinery output, had been pretty well adjusted, except for localized situations like the price cutting in California.

Bullish rumors spread around the street during the day, some of them almost sensational in character. These, however, were not seriously regarded in more conservative quarters and it was believed by the majority that the present recovery is purely in the nature of a technical rally and running in the shorts.

GILLETTE DECLARES REGULAR

Gillette held at 2 1/2 per cent all day.

Gillette Safety Razor declared the regular quarterly dividend on the common. Gillette earned $1.20 a share on the common in the second quarter, against 98 cents in the first quarter.

AUBURN OUTLOOK IMPROVES

The former market in Auburn Motors, according to the N.Y. Times, is credited to information that the company's report for the second quarter will make far better showing than for the first three months, with estimated net income as much as $4 a share.

RAIL FORWARD MOVEMENT

The Herald-Tribune says that in part the forward movement in the rails appeared to be a belated response to the favorable rate decisions handed down Tuesday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and also a reflection of the increase in car loadings reported by the American Railway Association for the week ended June 28.

GENERAL MOTORS EARNINGS

General Motors will earn its dividend requirements by a liberal margin this year. The company is so strongly entrenched both in this and foreign countries that its earnings will quickly reflect a return to normalcy in the motor field.

BAD REPORTS DISCOUNTED

"There is no general idea that July will furnish constructive business news of important character," F. B. Williams says. "The mid-summer dullness is augmented by the known circumstances surrounding general business and no one is expecting any change until summer is succeeded by early fall. There is likely to be more interest in second quarter earnings reports and even in that direction there probably will be a few surprises. In other words, these reports have been substantial discounted."

THERE IS NO LARGE SCALE OR HURRIED SHORT COVERING IN PROGRESS, BUT IF THE MARKET, OR AT LEAST THE LEADERS AMONG THE INDUSTRIAL AND PUBLIC UTILITIES, ARE ABLE TO MAINTAIN THEIR PRESENT POSITIONS, A DAY OR TWO LONGER, COVERING MAY BECOME MORE INSTANT AND A GENERAL TECHNICAL RECOVERY DEVELOP.

BETTER BOND BUYING

Wall Street Mirror to-day issued the following list of clients:

"The rally in the market can be considered to have run just about its normal course, and selling can now be looked for. It may be that the reversal of selling will follow the publication of the unfilled tonnage statement, to be made public by the U.S. Steel Corporation to-day.

In addition to the institutional buying reported here on Wednesday, it is now learned that bonds are enjoying a better market. It is only a step from bond buying to buying of high grade preferred stocks. Inasmuch as the belief that the June lows in the market will not be broken is gaining, it is again suggested that high grade common stocks are a purchase for the pull on reactions."

WHITNEY LETTER

Mr. Branson, Brown & Co. Limited

New York, July 10.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

MARKET THOROUGHLY SATISFACTORY

"To the extent that yesterday's session picked up the rally which was interrupted by the previous close, and carried stocks to a point sufficiently far from the lows of Tuesday to remove them from danger, I believe we have seen a thoroughly satisfactory market performance. These low points of Tuesday, as it was pointed out here then, constituted what were admittedly critical places for stocks to be in, as the approach to the lows of two weeks ago had become a matter of too few remaining points for comfort.

"With such an approach any market should, of course, lose little time in meeting sufficient support to take it out of the dangerous territory. This is exactly what happened and the rally since that time is the reflection of it. At the moment, however, I am of the opinion that we cannot expect any worthwhile extension of this rally and in fact, must look for another attempt to be made on the low points before this type of maneuver, which has characterized the last two weeks' market, is definitely given up. This will constitute the third, and I believe the last one, with its coming the definite establishment of both a market bottom and shortly thereafter the realization on the part of those who have been working for lower prices, that they might as well change their plans and get to work on the upside. This simply means that you can continue to expect little, if any, upward movement in the balance of this week's market, but can with a look for it very soon after that, with possibly not much of next week needed to bring us in line for advance.

"To-day's issuance of the steel tonnage report will undoubtedly confirm rumors of moderate decrease, but rumors have already accounted for sufficient discounting to make the decrease unimportant marketwise. On the other hand, brokers' loans after the close, may be expected to show a decrease, but with correspondingly unimportant market effect. What the market is ready to discount is the first appearance of something definite that business is showing a turn. For the present, however, think we must content ourselves with the fact that it is simply stabilizing at a low level, and that precedents have shown such stabilization to precede the turn. That we are getting this stabilization is rather well indicated in the last six weeks' trading figures, which, allowing for holiday drops, have been moving in a straight line. Inasmuch as this railroad freight index is extremely sensitive to industrial activity, it shows us that business is doing and should be carefully watched from now on for the first signs of what business is going to do."

OFFER MADE FOR NELSON'S POWER PLANT

British Capitalists Would Buy B.C. City's Electric System For $2,000,000

Nelson, B.C., July 10.—Realizing the possibilities of Nelson's greatest public utility, British capital, through its Vancouver representatives, has offered the Nelson city council $2,000,000 for the city power plant and electrical system.

The communication was received from R. J. Richards, Vancouver solicitor, acting for Dal Thomas, who, in turn, is acting for the English interests.

The communication stated that should the deal go through, the company would have "exclusive franchise for twenty-five years with an option of renewal for a similar period, and obligate themselves to give the municipality continuous power, to compensate for failure to do so, to maintain the plant and equipment, and to build the building of two distinct transmission lines from the power plant to the city and substitution of a rapid bus service for the present street railway system at the same rate as now charged."

In closing, Mr. Richards' letter, and at a meeting of the city council, suggested that "if the council should feel inclined to discuss the many angles presented by such an offer, an early conference could be arranged."

ROYALS WILL MEET CALGARY AT VANCOUVER

B.C. and Alberta Football Champions Will Clash in Dominion Play-downs

Winnipeg, July 10.—Dates for the Dominion Football Association finals still were unannounced to-day but soccer heads here expressed certainty that Winnipeg would again be venue of the soccer classic. Sam Davidson, secretary of the D.F.A., said the games probably would be played at the famous old Carleton Place stand.

The four western provinces have declared their intention to challenge the supremacy. Elimination play-downs will get under way next week. On July 14 and 16, Calgary Hillsbrurs, Alberta, will play the Winnipeg Westminsters, British Columbia's titled eleven, at Vancouver. In the midst of Saskatchewan's contenders, some of England's best players, with Winnipeg Hearts here on July 17 and 19 for the right to battle with the winner of far western title.

It was indicated that the usual "stop-over" series at the head of the lakes will be eliminated. Lakedown winners will meet Hamilton Thistles at St. Catharines, Ontario, and the winners of this series will play the Quebec champions.

Victoria Boxers Do Well in Bouts At Cavalry Club

Vancouver, B.C., July 10.—Victoria fighters won two, drew two, and lost one of the five bouts in which they engaged on yesterday evening's smother programme at the Cavalry Club here.

Dave Barr outpointed Bill McDaniel of Vancouver, and Danny Paiscoe knocked out Gil Woods, Vancouver, in the second round, to chalk up the two victories.

Harry Woodford, Victoria, drew with Ted Wickens, Vancouver, and Wilf Shoultice, Victoria, got a draw verdict.

Scotty Macdonald, Victoria, was badly mauled by the cougar, his scalp and face being terribly torn. He was assisted in fighting off the animal by his little companion, Miss Doreen Ashburnham, and in 1917 their bravery was awarded by the King, who presented them with the coveted Albert Medal of the Second Class in recognition of their outstanding courage.

age which made him so successful an athlete was first evidenced when he, at the risk of his life, fought off a cougar, attacked him and a young girl companion in the woods at Cowichan Lake in September, 1916, when he was only eight years of age. Young Farrar was badly mauled by the cougar, his scalp and face being terribly torn. He was assisted in fighting off the animal by his little companion, Miss Doreen Ashburnham, and in 1917 their bravery was awarded by the King, who presented them with the coveted Albert Medal of the Second Class in recognition of their outstanding courage.

FINE RUGBY PLAYER

Young Farrar, graduated from the Wood College, where he first acquired his reputation as an all-round athlete and an outstanding rugby player. A former officer in the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, Lieut. Farrar played rugby for the regimental team, and was also on several rep teams. He was known as one of the fastest wing three-quarters in the city.

Shortly after his marriage to Miss Gibson last year he moved with his bride to Winnipeg, where they have since been residing. He had a commission in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Lieutenant Farrar moved with "A" Company of his regiment to Calgary for the annual training period just before his tragic death.

The remains are to be shipped to Victoria for burial, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

A few "breaks" on the green, where at least half a dozen putts missed the hole, would have put the champion well down in the sixties for his round. On the ninth, he had a 30-foot putt for an eagle that he did not miss by much after seeing this lake-bordered 485 yard green in two smashing wallops.

The gallery following Jones fairly screamed from the excitement of cheering him up and down hill, through the woods and scrambling for vantage.

KEEN EXCITEMENT

There was keen excitement as Horton Smith and Jones, each out in 34, two under par, battled strokes for strokes in the incoming journey. Bobby lost a stroke to Smith and par on the tenth, when his second shot found a trap for his only serious error of the round. He still was a stroke behind Smith with two holes to go, but on each of these Horton lost a stroke, making mistakes that cost him the championship. Bobby's lead was finished 4-5 to Bobby's 3-4.

TOLLY HAS EIGHTY

Cyril Tolley of Great Britain took 48-38 for his first round, eight above par.

Dan Moe of Portland, Ore., western amateur champion, started brilliantly with 35, but finished in 49 for a total of 75.

ELM OFF GAME

Two other amateurs, George Von Elm and the British star, Cyril Tolley, each required 80. It was one of the poorest exhibitions Von Elm has ever given in the open championship as he needed 43 for the homebound nine.

Among those at 73, two strokes behind, were Eddie Williams of Cleveland, Irving Ottman of Los Angeles, and Jack Ross of New York, all in the "dark horse" class. As 74 were Johnny Farlane, Willie Bill Meade, and Johnny Goodman, the young Nebraska amateur who knocked Bobby Jones out of the U.S. championship at Pebble Beach last summer, supplied a thrill by going out in 34, three under par. He clipped another stroke from par on strain and heat, and finish the last two holes, and try to crack under the nine in forty-one strokes for a total of 74.

With only seven holes to go, Goodman had a great chance to shoot his way into the lead, but lost two strokes to par as he began straying into traps and lost his putting touch. Johnny was a bit flustered by the thousands who flocked out to watch this phenomenon, after troping home with Jones.

"It was delightful." His Honor exclaimed as he clambered from the plane's cabin.

"I have made a trip from London to Paris, but it was not as beautiful as this flight over the Gulf Islands."

REGULAR WAY

It was Miss Mackenzie's first airplane trip and she displayed her keen enjoyment of the fleet mode of travel.

"I think it should be the regular way."

THE PEACOCK'S TAIL

By
Mrs. ROMILLY FEDDEN

The man returned at once, followed by Leslie.

"Look here, Stewart, Miss Nicholson isn't in the women's apartment. That means she is not in the house. Have you seen her?"

"Yes, I have," Leslie answered somewhat curtly. "She asked me to meet her on the roof—about an hour ago. I did so."

"And then—did you come down to get her?"

"No, I left her there."

"Ah, then it was over the roof and through my house that she left, looking the street door after her." He told Leslie of his late experience.

"Where has she gone?" Leslie exclaimed blankly.

"Back to her Spanish friends at H.Q. I presume, with all the information that we have given her. I will wager that the first result will be an attack upon this house."

"You're mad," Leslie cried. "Whatever she has gone or whatever she is doing, you can trust Miss Nicholson to play the game."

"But what the devil—"

"I don't know. I will tell you this—she had something on her mind. She asked me to promise to trust her, however much appearances were against her. And I shall."

"You're in love," Fitzgerald said wearily. "And so is she. Which means that you are no use to any one, worse luck."

"I beg your pardon," Leslie began eagerly; but he was not proof against the charm of Fitzgerald's smile, as taking the younger man's arm, he said, "Pay no attention to me. It's all right. I'd give my head to be your age again. In love. Yes, yes, I know that you are. No, no, I am only annoyed because I am troubled. You don't think I ought to wear this dress. You say you think as Consul I ought to keep out of things—sit back, egg 'em on, and do nothing. Well, that I can't do and I won't. They are white, these Moore, and I am going to fight with my friends, Consul or no Consul. Wartime it is, my dear Stewart, and who's going to be after caring what is done this night in El Pousar?"

"By God, I'm with you. I can't sit about doing nothing with this going on."

"No, no, it's different for you, my boy—not you fight."

"We're in this together," Leslie declared stubbornly. "Give me a fellow, anything, to put over these clothes."

"All right, all right. But you've now got to take orders from me. You stop here. You've got to guard this house. This is the centre for us all. Mohammed Ali is nominally the head, but you must keep him straight. El Mahdi, Hassan Ali, Abdur Rahman, they will all report here. You've got your work cut out."

"And you?"

"I've got mine. So that's that. I'm off. I know you're worried, old son, but you are doing the right thing. I'll let you know at once if I get any news of her. She's safer than most of us so long."

Sore at his own enforced inaction, Leslie returned to join Mohammed Ali.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

The young Arab was eagerly waiting. "Surely," Leslie said, "El Mahdi should attack on the west to support Fitzgerald on the south!"

"Surely," echoed the placid voice. The Arab lad was off.

"The Son of the King has taken for himself the place of greatest danger," the Moor said placidly. "He is as brave as a lion in the mountain. He is my friend. And friendly between the East and the West, that is difficult."

"Is there not a saying that it is possible only when the charcoal takes root and the salt buds, O Mohammed Ali?"

The Moor smiled. "And yet he is, indeed, my friend," he repeated. "He remembered that day in spring when, as they sat by the fountain listening to the singing birds, he had called his hidden son—how safe in peace—and hidden him in Fitzgerald's hands, the silver casket. The boy had opened it with the silver key which Mohammed Ali felt now at his girdle. And from the casket he had lifted the eight hundred years old deed to a property in Granada and the great key."

Mohammed Ali nodded slowly at the memory. He had spread the parchment upon his knee with an offering gesture to Fitzgerald, the great key he had hugged to himself in one thin brown band. And Fitzgerald had laid his hand upon the parchment and had described to them that palace in the paradise, the gardens, the vineyards, the paradise, where on a day they had lost.

The deed that unforgotten domain, the key turned in haste and the hope of return, had lain in that silver casket for centuries, the household treasure of the Moors. A number of clocks of varying sizes and shapes, and a large gramophone in a rosewood case, gave the usual incongruous note to the apartment.

The Moor had the Eastern power of concentration, of withdrawal within himself, which Leslie had learned to know. Mohammed Ali, with the outcome of this night, had the serene look that he might have worn at any evening's game of draughts in his favorite cafe. Had he thought? Had he been anxious? No trace of them appeared in his untroubled countenance.

From time to time his thin brown hand stroked his white beard, or touched the papers on the table before him, which bore lists of the names of those in each section of the town who pledged themselves to the rebellion, lists of those receiving arms, and other memoranda. There was an inkpot of Rouen water, quill pens, and a small locked casket which held the party funds. At his elbow stood the brass kettle-stand, and a smaller table bore the tea-equipment for the endless mint tea.

His calm sedate figure was in sharp contrast to the street of his figures, messengers and such, who were constantly passing back and forth, asking for names, requiring information, bringing messages.

Leslie, seated opposite Mohammed Ali, was occupied with the questions that filled his own mind. Where was Concha? Where was Fitzgerald? What was happening? Would the Spaniards be a sortie? But the words of an excited Arab boy in a short garment, with a forgotten flower still stuck between his ears under the fez, flicked his attention.

"From El Mahdi. Signal fires from the Rif. Abd-el-Krid prepares to descend. This is many hours before the time arranged for the attack. Instructions," Leslie consulted his watch. It was just ten o'clock.

Mohammed Ali had turned his grave face to Leslie, when a messenger appeared breathless.

"The Son of the King has seen the signal fires. He is in position. He attacks without delay." The youth bowed, but as he turned away, he burst into a flood of words. "The Son of the King is like a mighty army. He has no fear. He shall sweep all before him. And the little gun! The little talking gun!" He clapped his hands and vanished.

The young Arab was eagerly waiting. "Surely," Leslie said, "El Mahdi should attack on the west to support Fitzgerald on the south!"

BEDTIME STORY UNCLE WIGGILY'S PARACHUTE

By HOWARD R. GARIS

(Copyright, 1930.)

Sitting on the tail of the airplane Uncle Wiggily was having a wonderful ride through the sky. That is, it seemed wonderful for a time, but as the rabbit gentleman looked down on the earth where he lived, and where he had built his hollow stump bungalow, he said to himself:

"How am I ever going to get back home?"

Well might Uncle Wiggily ask this, for he was being carried farther and farther away all the while. The pilot in the mail airplane did not know he had a rabbit gentleman for a passenger on the tail of his machine. And Uncle Wiggily had no way of telling the pilot he was there. Uncle Wiggily could not shout against the wind that almost blew him away. He did not dare start crawling up toward the cockpit where the pilot sat.

"If I tried that I would be blown off," said Uncle Wiggily with a queer little shiver. So all he could do was to hug his big umbrella close to him and wait.

Uncle Wiggily had gone out to look for an adventure with his umbrella, as he told you in the story last night. In a meadow he saw a mail airplane come down for a fox's landing. The pilot landed his motor, and Uncle Wiggily, just for fun, hopped up on the tail of the plane when the pilot was looking. Then, all of a sudden, before the rabbit gentleman could hop off, up went the machine toward the sky and Uncle Wiggily went with it.

After a while Mr. Langens began falling more gently.

"Yes, it's a wonderful ride I'm having, all right," thought Mr. Langens, "but what about getting back home? My wife will be worried about me, and so will Nurse Jane, and Baby Bunty and all my little bunny boys and girls. I wish this mail pilot would turn around and take me home."

But the pilot of the airplane never thought of doing such a thing as that. He wanted to get away as fast and as far as he could with the bags of letters he had packed for the day.

Then Uncle Wiggily looked down to the earth, could hardly see his hollow stump bungalow. It was being left farther and farther back of him. He began to feel homesick.

"Oh, if I could only jump down and see my dear wife and Nurse Jane and Baby Bunty and all the others, how I should like to see them. I should like to hold fast with one paw to his umbrella and with his other paw to the side of the airplane's tail."

Then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily remembered something he had read in the paper about pilots jumping out of airplanes, either for fun, or when they were in danger.

"The pilot jump out with a parachute over their heads and they come down so easily they don't get hurt," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I have seen pictures of them doing that. A parachute is like a big white umbrella, and—"

Uncle Wiggily looked at his own umbrella. It was not as large as a parachute, but it was white.

"But perhaps it will let me float gently down to the earth if I jump," thought the rabbit. "Maybe my umbrella will be a parachute for me. I'm going to try. If I don't jump pretty soon I'll be carried so far from my bungalow that I'll never get back."

Giving his pink nose a brave twinkle, he took one look at the tail of the airplane. He took one look at the ground far below him, opened his umbrella, and holding tightly to it with his two paws, off he jumped.

The rabbit gentleman began falling so swiftly that, for a moment, he almost lost his breath. But he closed his lips to keep all the wind from being blown out of him and felt him going down. He fell very fast at first. But, after a while, the umbrella parachute began to hold him up, because there was so much air under it. Mr. Langens began falling more gently.

"This is better," said Uncle Wiggily, smiling. "I want to come down like a feather. I want to float down like a leaf. Down, down, down he fell with his umbrella parachute. The wind began to blow him back toward his bungalow, over the meadow and the hill where he lived. Down, down, down, until, all of a sudden, Mr. Langens gently landed in his front yard just as his wife and Nurse Jane came out to look for him, as he had been gone a long time.

"Well, my goodness aches alive!" cried Mrs. Langens. "Where have you been, Wiggily?"

"Ist Ha!" laughed the rabbit gentleman, who was happy to be back home. "I have been for an airplane ride and I jumped off with my umbrella parachute. It was a wonderful ride with me! And indeed, it was; don't you say so? Well, that's how it happened. And if I don't jump often, I'll sleep 'til I'm a sleep bird. I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily's flowers."

HOLLOW VICTORY

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other union officials yesterday were held guilty of violating an injunction issued by the Sangamon county circuit court to restrain them from interfering with activities of the Illinois mine worker, in an option prepared by Master in Chancery Frank Trutter. It was prepared as hollow victory for the Illinois mine workers as no punishment was provided.

Why Doesn't the Whining Wife Realize That She Defeats Her Own Best Interests With Her Tongue? Adopted Boy of 14 Who Is Forced to Wear Curls

DEAR MISS DIX—I married a whiner. Somebody is always doing something to her. When she can't pick on me she picks on my family or some member of her own family, but I am the goat. Before we were married I didn't have an enemy in the world. Now I cannot number them, and my wife has made them for me. When I pass people on the street I think I can hear them saying: "There he goes, the brute." Pleasant for me, isn't it? I have stood this for ten years because I stood before God and promised to stick until death does us part.

UNJUSTLY ACCUSED.

Well, brother, I am not going to lay any wreaths at your feet, because I think that there is no virtue in unnecessary martyrdom and that any man who lets a neurotic, whining, complaining woman spoil his life with her nagging has only himself to blame for his misery. If he had the strength and courage to stand up and have one good fight with her he could probably make her afraid ever to utter another moan. And if that didn't work there must be at least forty trains a day that leave his city, any one of which would bear him forth to peace and freedom.

The kind of women who are always picking on their husbands and saying little, mean things to them and criticizing them to others are invariably cowards who are taking advantage of the fact that their husbands are tied to them and have to stand any sort of treatment. Or so they think. And a coward can always be bluffed and all that the husband would have to do to secure decent treatment would be to stage a rebellion with plenty of fireworks. They would become as maim as clams if they thought their good living was going to be taken away from them.

Treat 'em rough' is the sure cure for that sort of mean-souled women. Nothing but brute force appeals to them and the more a man bangs them around and the louder he swears at them the more they adore him. They are the women who stick to husbands who are wife-beaters and who lie to the neighbors about the way they got their black eyes.

But, alas, they are also the type of woman with whom no gentleman is fitted to deal and the more high-minded, the more tender and chivalrous he is the more helpless a victim he becomes to such a wife, and so she amuses herself by torturing him to death with her tongue.

But inasmuch as selfishness is the predominant characteristic of this type of woman, it is curious that her greed and egotism do not make her "lay off" her husband, as the phrase goes, because by her perpetual fault-finding with him she literally kills the goose that lays the golden egg.

To begin with, she slows him down. She paralyzes his energies and atrophies his ambition, for what man could think it worth while to work himself to death for a wife who was never satisfied with anything he did anyway? What man could keep up his morale in the face of a wife's complaints that she couldn't have as fine things as rich women have or her reproaches to her husband that he wasn't a go-getter like some other man?

For a man to succeed it is essential for him to have not only a compelling motive, but a belief in his own abilities, and these the whining wife slays by her reproaches. The men who achieve have wives who back them up by their faith in them, wives who cheer them on and buck them up and put fresh heart and courage into them and who are always like a flag of victory waving just before them.

Then a wife writes her husband's price tag. Unconsciously we take our opinion of a man from his wife and if she is always singing his praises and telling how wonderful he is, we think he is great and wonderful, too, and if she is always finding fault with him and telling about his little tempers and how she has to make him get up of a morning and that, somehow, he doesn't seem to know how to get along, why, we set him down as brutal or lazy or no-account.

Many a woman who wonders why her husband doesn't succeed could find the answer in the prejudice she has built up against him by her criticisms of him. And often enough these complaints have no justification in fact.

The wife has a morbid craving for sympathy and so she exaggerates every fault into a crime, every foible into a fatal defect of character. It is Mrs. A's husband on the lawn Mr. A. is in the neighborhood of being a rounder. It is Mrs. B's complaints over some money Mr. B. lost that makes people afraid to trust his judgment in business.

And it is the enemies or friends that a man's wife makes for him that are a big factor in his success or failure. Half of the business of the world is done on personal liking and a man can have no more valuable press agent than a wife nor any more fatal handicap. And these are things that the whining wife might well consider because whether she loves her husband or not she certainly loves the money he brings in.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of fourteen in the eighth grade in school and I am an adopted child. At the time my mother took me she wanted a girl, but she couldn't get one, so she took me because I had golden curls. She has never let my hair be cut and I have long, golden curls to my waist and I always have to wear ribbons in it and she makes me wear dresses after school and on Sundays and I help with the housework like a girl. My mother says if I ever cut one curl she will send me back to the orphan asylum. She tells everybody that an adopted boy always turns out badly, so she has brought me up as a girl. Otherwise, she is good and kind to me, but I feel that I cannot stand these curls. Can she send me back to the orphan school if I cut off my curls? FRANKIE.

ANSWER—If I were you, Frankie, I would cut off those curls, even though the penalty for doing so was being sent back to the orphan asylum. Even that would be far better for you than being brought up in the unnatural way in which you are. The orphan asylum would, at least, give you the chance of growing up into a man instead of a sissy.

Your adopted mother surely cannot realize what a cruel thing she is doing in forcing a boy of fourteen to wear long, golden curls down to his waist. It is a cruel and inhuman punishment, for it makes you a laughing stock among all the boys and that you have endured it this long shows that you are of the stuff of which heroes are made. Also, that you have a most extraordinary appreciative and grateful disposition or else you would have rebelled long ago.

As for your adopted mother's theory that adopted boys always turn out badly, that is a silly and sheer nonsense. They turn out quite as well as any other boys if they are given the right sort of environment and intelligent rearing.

But, anyway, how does she expect to circumvent nature by putting you in girl's clothes and letting your hair grow? That doesn't change your sex nor your character. All that it can do is to make you a poor little misfit in the world.

Perhaps you can make your mother realize the injustice she is doing you by trying to make you an imitation girl. Anyway, beat it to a barber. Even the girls have short hair in these days.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young man of twenty-four, well educated, popular and making good money. I play around a lot and save nothing. In fact, I can't. There are two girls I am simply crazy about and I believe either one of them would be a nice little wife for me. One is a business girl, always too busy when I call. The other is just the opposite and I believe I prefer her to the business girl. I would like to get steady and go into business, but at the present rate I am living I will never be anything but a regular guy. What is your advice? N. O. V.

ANSWER—My advice is for you to settle down and make something of yourself before you ask either girl to marry you. It doesn't seem to me that you are a very attractive proposition as you stand. If you can't save money when you have only yourself to support, how do you expect to save any when you have a family to provide for?

It always seems to me that a man has a lot of nerve who asks a woman to make a man of him when he hasn't been able to do the job himself.

DOROTHY DIX.

HORTICULTURISTS TO HOLD FLOWER SHOW IN AUGUST

Victoria Horticultural Society
Makes Plans For Seventh Annual Summer Show

Big Exhibit Will Be Held in the Shriners' Hall, August
1 and 2

The Victoria Horticultural Society will hold its seventh annual summer show in the Shrine Hall, View Street, on Friday and Saturday, August 1 and 2. The executive committee under the chairmanship of Fred Landsberg have nearly completed initial arrangements for what is hoped and expected to be the finest display of horticultural products available at this time of the year.

The committee decided to hold the show two weeks later than in other years. The indications are that many varieties would not have been seen at their best at any earlier period. Having considerable more floor space at the Shrine Hall, it is hoped to arrange for a number of commercial displays. The secretary of the society reports inquiries for space for this purpose, and anyone desirous of taking advantage of this is advised to apply to the secretary not later than Friday, July 18.

The prize lists, which are now available, contain quite a varied list of classes, notable of which is the group display of potted plants, to be staged in thirty-six square feet of floor space, also the group display of cut flowers with cut foliage, same amount of floor space. These classes are judged on variety of specimens, quality of specimen and artistic effect. The societies challenge cups together with substantial cash prizes are given. Keen competition is expected in the latter class, when exhibition will be competing for the trophy donated particularly for this class by Askey's Fish Market, Yates Street.

Additional classes have been added this year permitting other societies to compete. One is the class for display of hardy cut flowers on stage on space three by nine feet. Mayor Ashcomb donates a silver flower basket for this, while another class calls for a display of roses, consisting of twenty-four varieties, with Clay's Bakery donating the first prize. None of the committee men will commit themselves as to what will be the popular flower this year. Sweet peas, roses, gladioli and dahlias will vie for each other in this distinction. The prize list has been so arranged whereby those possessing even the smallest garden can make some entries. Classes of fruit, flowers and vegetables have been limited for the benefit of all.

Intending exhibitors are advised to get their copy, and will have up to July 30 to record their entries with the secretary. Prize lists are obtainable at all flower stores or will be mailed to anyone interested by phoning the secretary, P. E. Boulter, 538 Obed Avenue, 7862X1.

CRANE COVERS CANADA, U.S. AND ENGLAND

Remarkable Expansion Noted as Plumbing Supply Company Celebrates 75th Birthday

Simultaneously, in widely scattered places throughout the world, 20,000 Crane employees and their families were picnicking on July 4. The Montreal staff of Crane Limited were at Belmont Park. In Toronto, Winnipeg, Halifax and all the other centres where Crane operations are carried on, the employees gathered at various picnic grounds to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Crane business.

It was on July 4, 1855, that a young mechanic, R. T. Crane, started in business for himself in a little brass and bell foundry in a corner of his uncle's lumber yard in Chicago. Above his work bench he hung up the following creed, to which he clung with unshakable tenacity:

"I am resolved to conduct my business in the strictest honesty and fairness; to avoid all deception and trickery; to deal fairly with both customers and competitors; to be liberal and just toward employees; and to put my whole mind on my business."

The business grew, slowly at first, then with increasing rapidity. In the twenty-five years since then, it has had a remarkable influence on our standard of living. It has helped to raise the standard of health, to put plumbing and heating comfort within the reach of humble homes, and to give greater beauty to homes large and small.

While the company was developing plumbing in the home, it was also developing piping materials to bring water from oceans, lakes, rivers and reservoirs, thus giving freedom from disease to modern cities.

Valves and fittings also became an important part of the Crane business, and to-day are used in all branches of industry for a great variety of purposes.

The growth of Crane Limited in Canada has been no less remarkable. The first branch was established in Winnipeg in 1907, while a branch was opened in Vancouver in the following year. Later the Victoria branch was opened.

In 1919 the Montreal factory was built and commenced operations in 1919, followed by a city store and exhibit room in 1922. The St. Denis Street store was opened in 1926, and a store and exhibit room was opened on Sherbrooke Street W., early this year.

EXTENDS TO ENGLAND
In 1919 Crane Limited bought out E. Bennett & Son Limited, in England and established branches in London, Eng., and in 1925 built their own factory at Ipswich, England.

The following facts give an indication of the physical growth of the company; factories are located in nine cities in Canada, the United States and England. They cover a land area of 275 acres and a floor area of 147 acres. Branches and sales offices number 195, located in Canada, the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, India, Burma, Ceylon, Mexico, Cuba and Brazil. The employees number more than 20,000. Close to 600 business buildings are used to carry on the day's work. More than 23,000 separate items are manufactured.

When it is remembered that all this has grown from a tiny building erected with his own hands by a young man twenty-five years of age, three-quarters of a century ago; that in the small brass furnace which was the parent of the great electric furnaces now used, he made his own castings; that he was then the entire working force of the factory; something of the full significance of his accomplishment is glimpsed.

INQUIRY BROADENED

Vancouver, July 10.—Books and accounts of the former municipalities of Point Grey and South Vancouver for 1928 will be included in the investigation of the select committee of the Vancouver City Council on the departmental operations. A resolution to this effect, moved by Alderman R. N. Fraser and seconded by Alderman W. C. Asher, was passed by the finance committee yesterday. In making his motion, Alderman Fraser said it was in the best interests of former employees of those municipalities that the scope of the inquiry be extended.
